It's Our Time

We've worked hard . . . stayed up late . . . and even changed the whole atmosphere. With an unexpected enrollment of 1680, the year has been a time of opportunity and gratification.

The School Board allowed high school students to wear shorts to school for the first time. Sophomore Ayo Anderson said, "It gives more diversity."

The Student Council played an important role in making the change. Student Council filled the year with activities which provided spirit and student involvement. Senior Brad Victory said, "They've made school things more interesting to go to."

Senior Mackey Richard just wanted to create memories this year. She said, "While I'm anxious to go on to college and get on with my life, I am reluctant to leave my friends."

Ms. Williamson and Mrs. Basham show their school spirit by dressing alike on Twin Day.

Who is that masked Jacket? Senior Robin Jones lets Kaycie Clark see what it's like to be Jack the Jacket.

After a long and tiring day, Senior Heather Cheek gathers her books to head home, only to do more work.

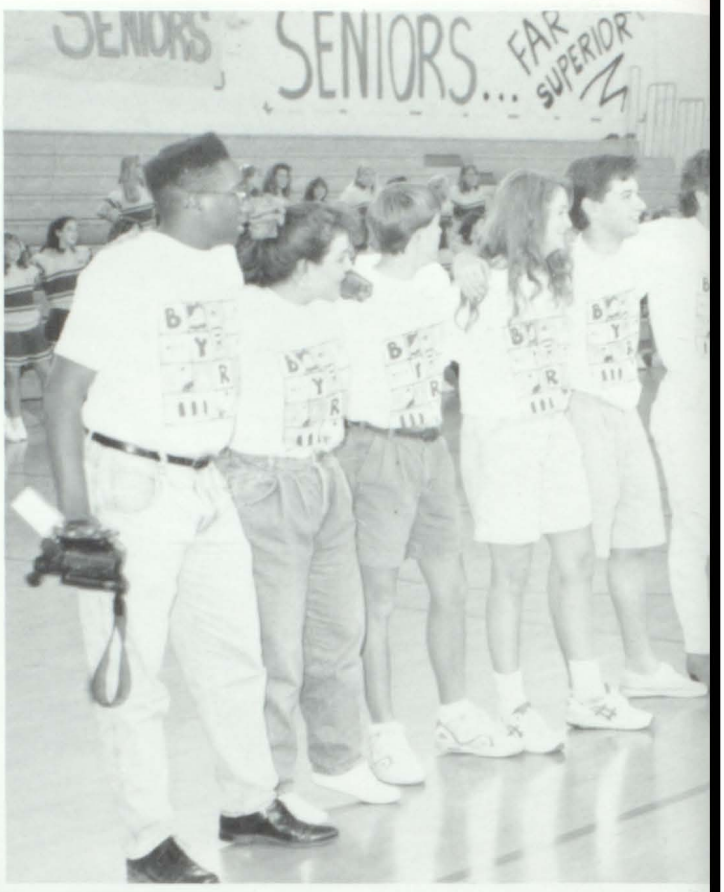

Student Council President, Jaime Jointer leads the Jackets in pumping up the football players during the first pep rally.

Freshmen Carol Alkins and Rene Rhines take advantage of the new payphone after school.

The Top Jackers lead the Freshmen in singing the Alma Mater at the Freshmen Day Pep Rally.

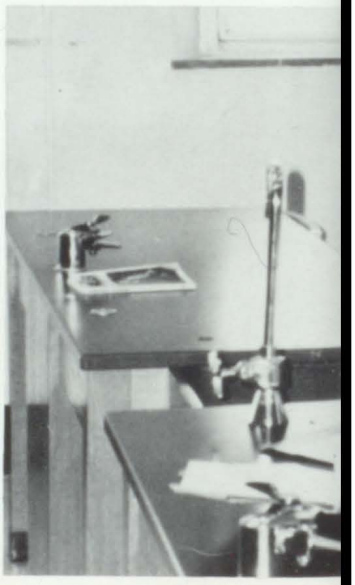

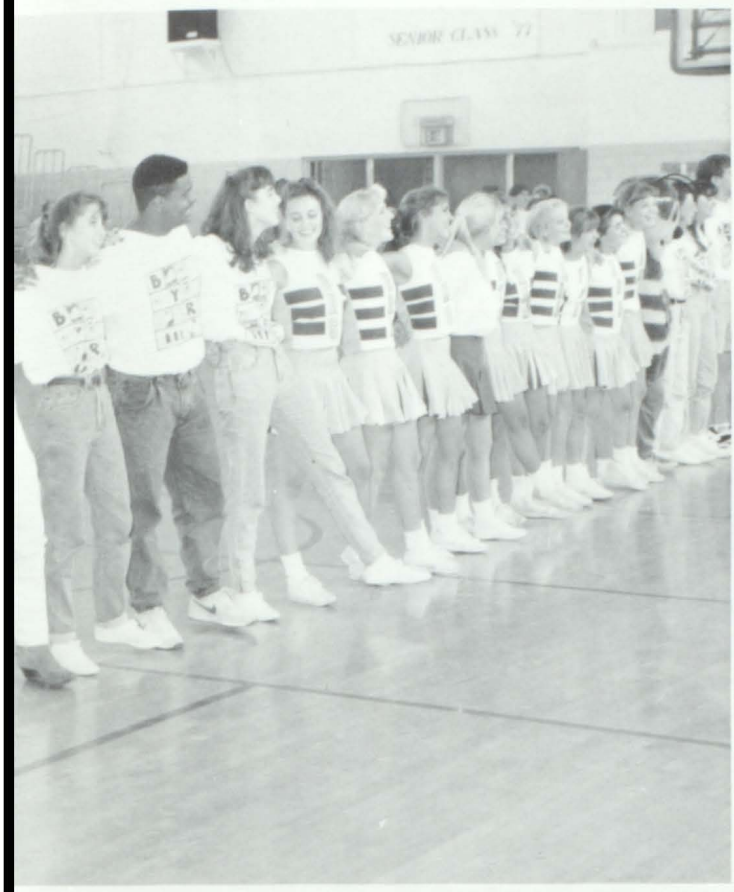

Senior Tina Kraszewski represents the senior class in a race against the other classes during a pep rally.

Student Council Members, Senior Holly Neeson, Sophomores Amy Neeson and Jaimes Kleinman paint banners to welcome students back.

On The Verge . . . Of Greatness

Economical changes and possibilities were exploding in Shreveport. The first Louisiana Lottery tickets were sold in convenience stores across the city on September 6, 1991. "The lottery has caused so much excitement, I would say it is one of the best things that ever happened to our state," said junior Ambronita Douzart.

The McDonnell Douglas possibility played an important role in the future of our city. Mr. Cap Haney felt that if the company chooses Shreveport for its new location, "There will be a prolonged period of enthusiasm for our future, followed by an economic explosion that would spread much farther than our city limits."

All these opportunities are out there waiting for someone to grasp on and go for it. If all these changes occur, Shreveport and Byrd will only get better.

Is It Worth The Fun?

Students Leave For Camp Not Expecting Hard Work

"Camp teaches me to be more responsible and keep up with my own belongings," said sophomore, Katie Cochran who attended the Lady Techster Basketball Camp. Danceline camp, cheerleading camp, basketball camp, and church camp were just a few of the many camps attended.

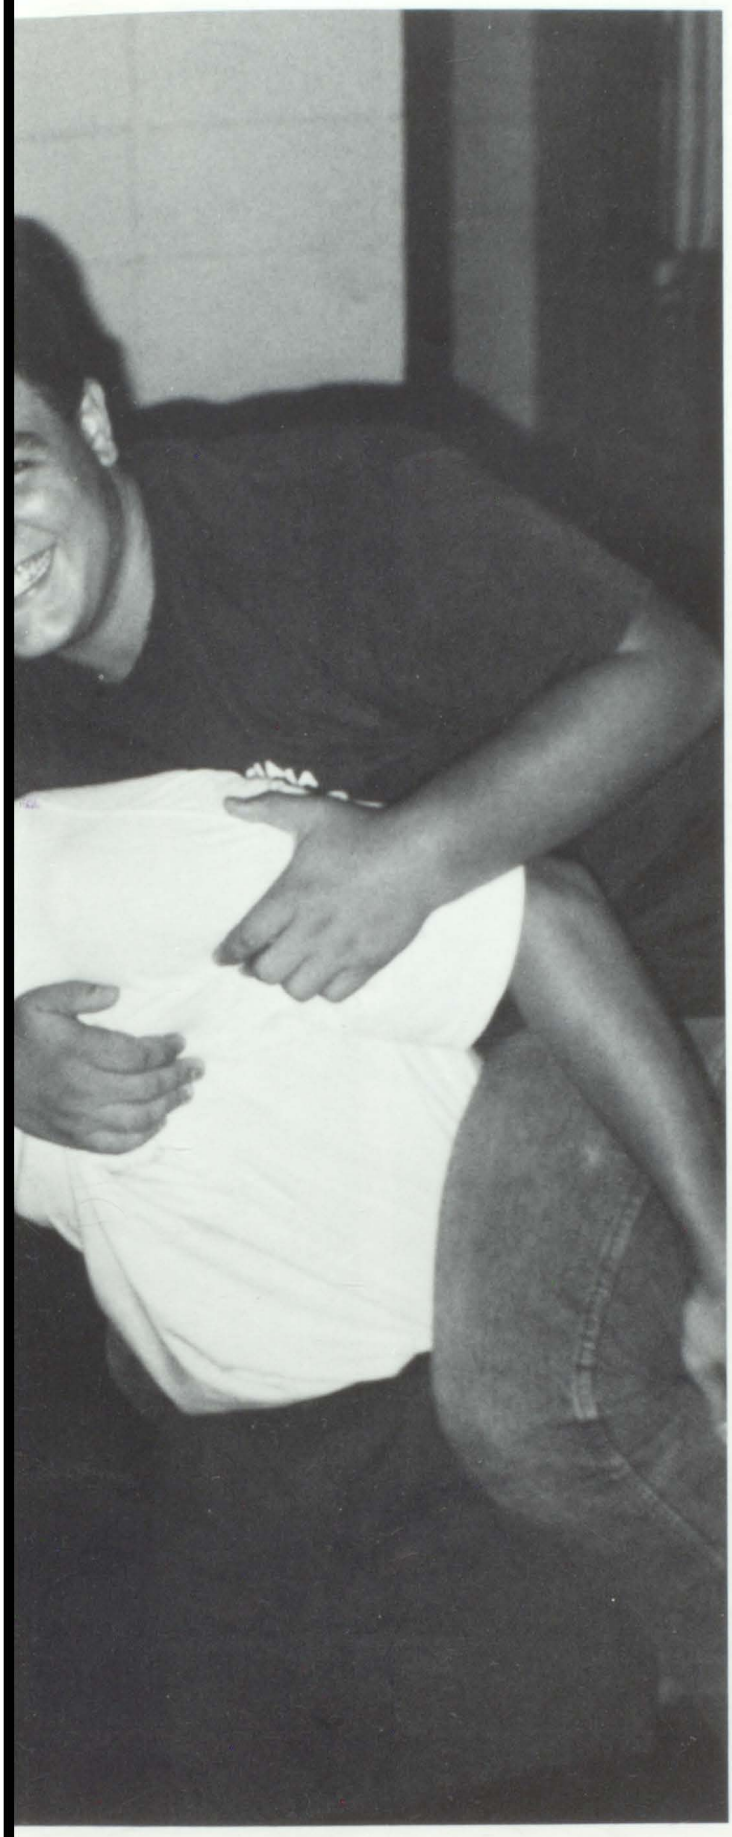

However, camp is not all fun and games. "I don't like the food at danceline camp," said junior, Jennifer McKenzie. Junior, Billy Sutton who attended Southwest Mississippi Basketball Camp said, "I hate having to wake up a 6:30 during the summer.

"Camp teaches me how to work under pressure," said junior, Beth Van Kirk who attended danceline camp. Junior, Lynse Larance said, "Super Summer encouraged growing as a Christian and a leader. It taught me the tools I'll need later in life." Senior, Mary Mitchell who attended cheerleading camp said, "It taught me how to deal without luxuries. I learned that I don't have to watch TV everyday and get eight hours of sleep every night to survive."

Senior, Christan Weidner and junior, Kelly Payne participate in a song at Josten's Yearbook Camp.

Sophomores, Kirt Barnett and Nick Wibben take a break from gleaning the fields on a mission trip in Laranger, Louisiana.

Senior, Callie Wilhite displays her rewards from danceline camp in Lake Charles.

"I like camp because I get to meet new people from different places. I also get closer to my friends," said senior, Mary Mitchell.

Senior Dawn Futrell and her mother spend a lot of time underwater on the coast of Hawaii.

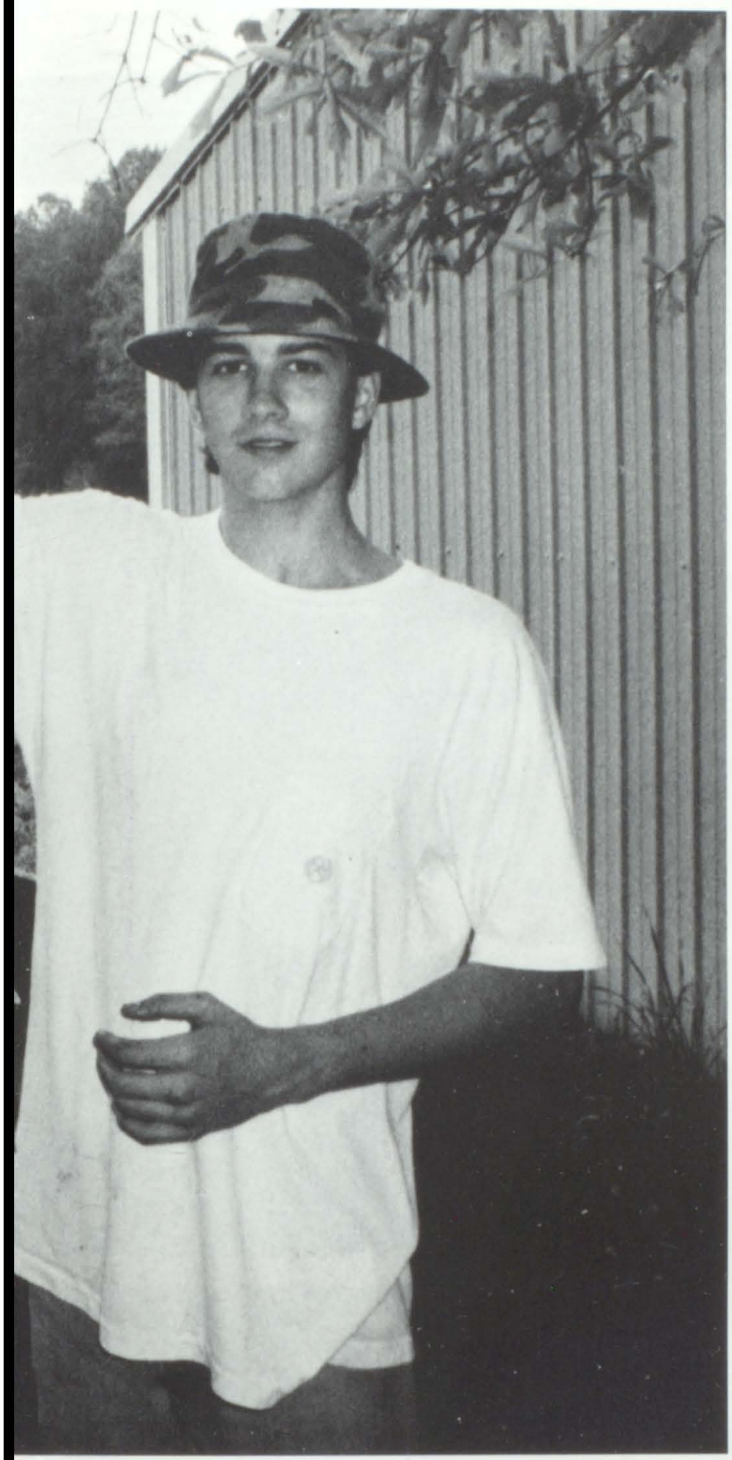

Trey Morris always seems to have a little time to pursue his hobby of flying in the air on his motorbike.

Seniors Katie Lang and Kim Chidlow show off their new hair style that took two hours and a lot of money to get in the Bahamas.

'Gonna Make You Sweat!

Vacation And Relaxation

It was fair to say that summer was too short. Summer-three months of pure ecstasy. Some students worked and some were plain lazy; but most of all, students enjoyed their summer. "Free-time" was the common interest during those hot days.

"Although my summer was fun, it was cut short by school starting," said senior Chris Ray. "Summer is simply a time to relax and have fun," said junior Beth VanKirk.

The all-time favorite was to spend time in the sun. "I like summer because I can spend time with my friends at the lake or at the pool," said sophomore Jamie Kleinman.

Some had different comments on summer. "I had no summer. I was up at the school for student council everyday. I think I went to San Antonio once though," said senior and vice-president, Eric Lynn.

Senior Scott Kendrick displays his "catch" after an incredible day of fishing.

Junior Becky Shoup and senior Jenni Smith spend their summer in Panama City, Florida at a church camp.

"I didn't enjoy my summer because I went to class everyday at LSUS from eight A.M. to four P.M.," said senior James Caverlee.

"I liked football practice and just having a good time the most about my summer," said sophomore Roger Moore.

"My summer was too short! Boy how I miss those lazy, crazy days," said High Life sponsor Mrs. Bowdon.

"My summer was horrible! I was grounded for staying out past my eleven o'clock curfew," said freshman Andrew Marlette.

Entertainment Tonight

"I dressed up in K.R.M.D. signs from head to toe just to get backstage passes to the Garth Brooks concert," said sophomore Kelly Spillers.

Some people will spend almost any amount of money just to have fun. "I spend about twenty dollars on the weekend just to take my girlfriend out," said junior Lane Dossett. "My parents give me money to go out on because I don't have a job, but I do some work around the house," said sophomore Kirt Barnett.

Then again there are some students who don't have to spend as much money for there entertainment. "I like to go to football games with a big group of people because it is very inexpensive and more fun to let loose and act crazy," said junior Racheal Jones.

Junior Catharine Rountree skates fast at Skate Bossier.

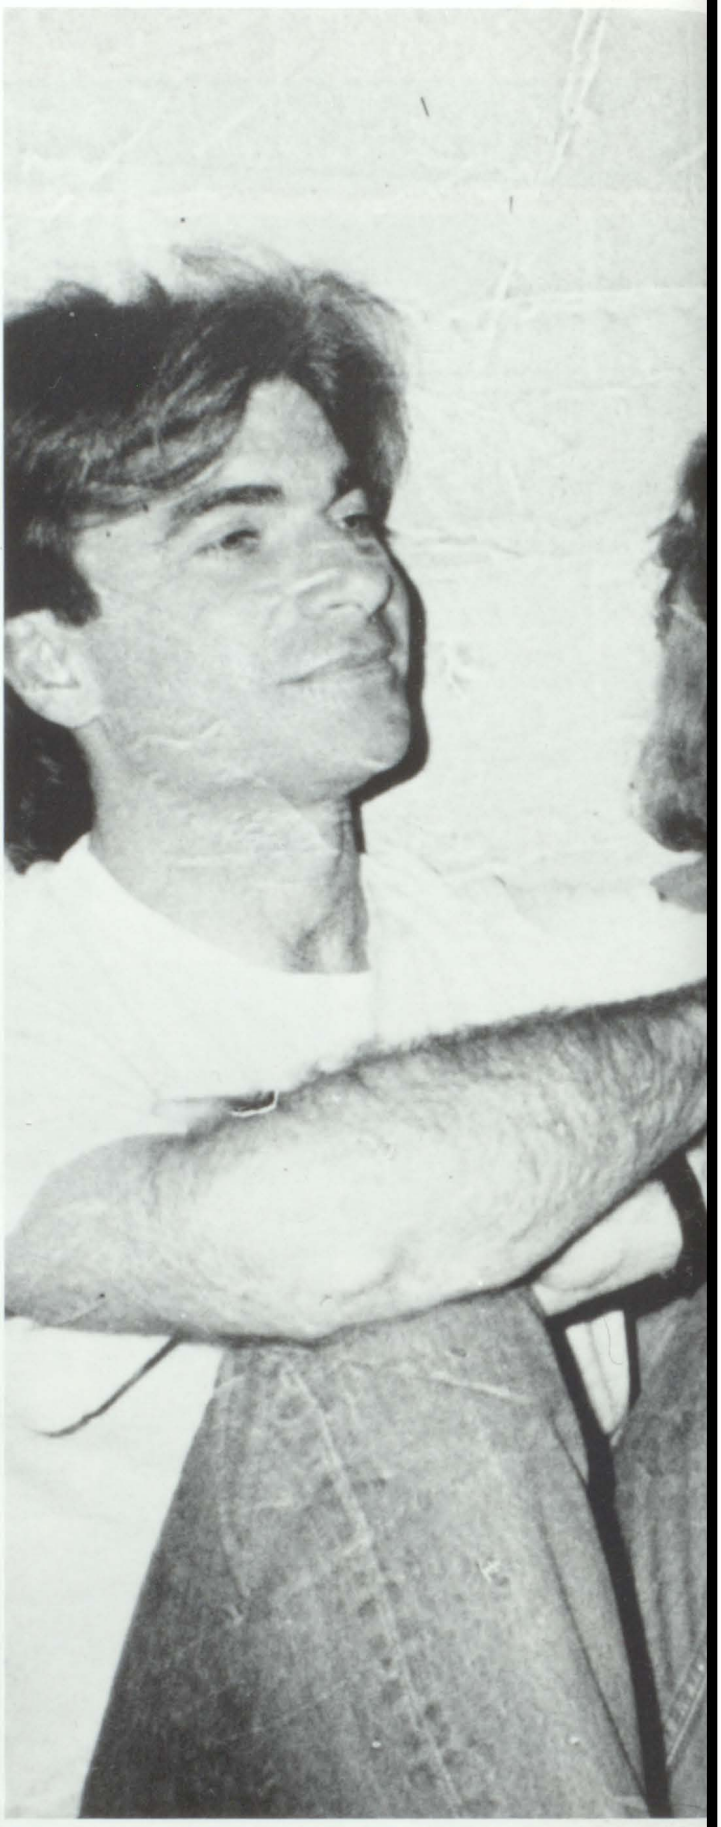

Senior Katie Carrington skis at 'ake Ouchita during the summer.

Junior Laura Colvin jogs daily through Southern Hills SPAR.

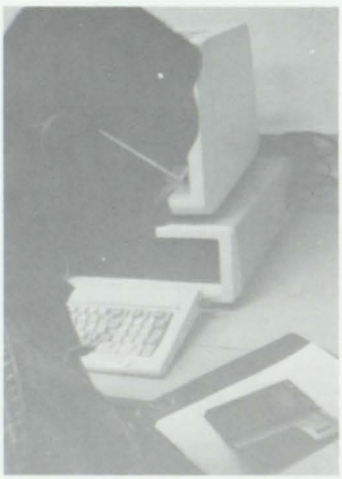

Senior Christi Saunders and teacher/local actor Mr. Pilgreen relax between scenes.

"I enjoy playing tennis because it's very competitive and it gives me a chance to release stress. It's a fun activity to do with friends."

What Floats Your Boat?

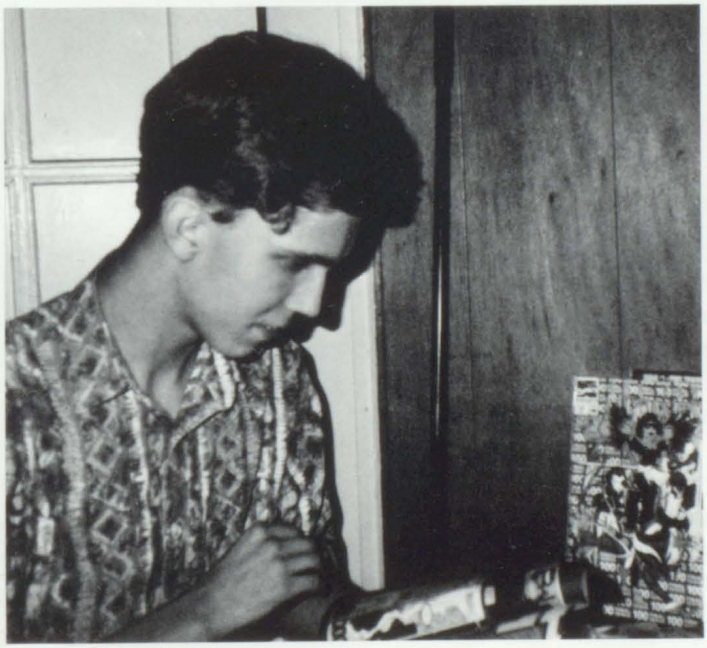

Having Fun Your Own Way

"I enjoy running because it's a natural high. After running, my blood is pumping and it's a cool feeling," said Junior Laura Colvin. Jogging may have been what she enjoyed, but some students had a different idea about fun.

Junior Michael Breaux collected comic books. "Comics interest me because they are not only entertaining, but also show different problems in society, such as racial discrimination, environmental problems, and the threat of war," he said.

Sophomore Anthony Mays spent his time thinking up new models of old ideas in a group called the Young Inventors' Club. "I came up with a certain kind of plane that flies at hyper speed-that's a little faster than light," said Anthony.

Senior Christi Saunders and Mr. Pilgreen, drama teacher and local actor, work in the theater. Mr. Pilgreen, who also does commercials, said, "Acting is much more involved than doing a commercial. You have to research a character, find out what makes them tick. It's much more difficult than people realize. It's not just pretending, it's being."

Junior Michael Breaux examines his 395 comic book collection.

Senior, Lisa Treadaway usually breaks for a coke between school and softball practice.

Angelia Brown, senior, insists on always having a neat locker.

Have It Your Way

Everyone has a certain way that they like to do things. Everyone has different tastes in clothes, food, music, and interests. If you ask anyone at the school, you will find that there is every kind of lifestyle you could imagine under one roof.

Some people like to function on a set routine, while others go with the flow. "During the week my routine is I go to school then in the afternoon I go home to go to sleep," said senior Kirsten Latz.

Entertainment has a lot to do with people's lifestyles. "I listen to rap, gospel, and R&B because that is what I was brought up on," said freshman Shanita Davenport.

Senior, Ashley Turnage commented. "I listen to Rush, Pink Floyd, and Zepplin. I like the percussion and the lyrics are about life."

Everyone has a favorite food. "I love anything chocolate. I love it, but I don't get it very often," said junior Carol Holder.

Freshman, Shanita Davenport is ready for her walk home from school.

Petrina Prelow, senior gets ready to go to work straight from school.

Freshman, Michelle Brown spends her free time talking on the phone.

Students Optimistic About Future

Conscientious Teens Work For A Better Life

Senior Matt Githens said, "Recycling is our way of efficiently using what we have been given."

Senior Jamie Joiner worked with Mayor Hazel Beard on a City Youth Council. Jamie said, "With the right people, it can make a huge impact and show the citizens that the youth care and want to help."

Junior Rachel Sullivan is a member of the Artbreak Youth Advisory Board. "Artbreak allows students to show their art and experience the art of others," she said.

The governor's race is important to Senior Mary Mitchell. "Not enough teenagers of voting age vote but I know my vote counts and I'll use it to support who I think will do the best job," she said.

On a political note, Sophomore Ronald King said, "The lottery is a great idea and will pump money into our area."

A new Dillard's was opened in Mall St. Vincent's. "Since the new additions, I've noticed the store has gotten more business," said Senior Gwen Beaudoin, employee of a mall store.

Members of Mr. Pilgreen's 6th hour join Robin Jones, constructer of the wreath, in supporting McDonnell-Douglas.

Senior Angela Seeliger browses at the renovated Mall St. Vincent's.

Senior Christine Keating helps save the planet by recycling newspapers.

Junior Rachel Sullivan paints a board in preparation for Artbreak.

Sweatin' For Life

Students Get Pumped Up About Fitness

Aerobics, jogging, and swimming are just a few ways students stay in shape. Junior Adelia Crooks said, "I exercise everyday by dancing or aerobics."

"I exercise a lot-usually about three hours a day. I workout, play tennis, and jog," said Junior Dirk Miller.

Junior Morgan Burke said, "I play soccer and we run a lot at practice. Practice usually lasts about two hours, six days a week."

Students are conscientious about the foods they eat. Junior Billy Sutton said, "I eat a lot of vegetables and fruits and I try not to eat too much junk food."

Sophomore Kerry Pakorski said, "I go to ballet three times a week. I eat McDonald's and Taco Bell all the time and tons of junk food."

Junior Jason Searcy bench presses while Junior Gabe Moranto spots him.

Senior Loren Gatlin squats as much as he can.

"I exercise everyday by working out with weights and jogging for about two hours. I eat all kinds of food and lots of it," said Junior Mike Davis.

"I'm on the basketball team and that really keeps me in shape because we always run and do different kinds of things like lifting weights," said Freshman Cammie Holladay.

"I play basketball and stuff, but I also eat a lot of junk food," said Junior Sandy Antwine.

"I never exercise. The most exercise I do is walking up and down the stairs at school. I eat mostly junk food - especially Bar None's," said Junior Mindy McCormack.

Workin' For Extra Cash

Summer jobs give young men and women a chance to broaden their horizons and fatten their wallets. "Working is good for teenagers because after work they can go out and night and have money to spend," said senior Jennifer Alsup, who worked at Willis-Knighton Hospital this summer as a personnel generalist.

Not only did the summer workforce make money, they had a chance to see what being a full-time worker is like.

"Summer jobs are very good for young people because they give them a chance to learn about working without sacrificing their education." said senior Robert Osborn, who spent his summer days working on science research projects at LSUS.

Senior Nathan Slaughter sold baseball cards this summer at his parents' store. "I don't mind working during the summer because what I do doesn't seem like a job."

Junior Catherine Rountree spends an afternoon chopping carrots for cash.

The 1991-1992 Mr. and Miss Gusher, seniors Matt May and Meagan Killen.

"This is a reward for all the hard work we put into Byrd," said senior, Allison Duncan.

Allison Duncan, Miss Mistletoe and Meagan Killen, Miss Gusher are two of the top girls in the senior class.

Mrs. And Miss Mistletoe And Mr. And Miss Gusher

Deserving Recognition . . .

In the Christmas season the High Life staff chose two individuals, who have shown dedication to and promoted our school. These two individuals hold the title of Mr. and Miss Mistletoe. These students maintained high standards in the areas of academics and character. The High Life presented Mr. and Miss Mistletoe, Randy Cush and Allison Duncan.

Randy was a member of the French club, Earth Care, and drama club. He starred in two plays, "The Foreigner," and "Death Trap." Allison was involved with her church, yearbook, staff, mu alpha theta, and National Honor Society.

The Gusher staff also chose two individuals who have clearly left their on the school. These two individuals were chosen by Gusher and then later approved by the faculty. Mr. and Miss Gusher 1991-1992, Matt May and Meagan Killen.

Matt May was a member of the baseball team. He was also on the first crew for K-Byrd. In his senior year he was president of the Spanish club. Meagan Killen was a member of F.C.A., quiz bowl, student council, and N.H.S. She served on the church youth council and the school's debate team.

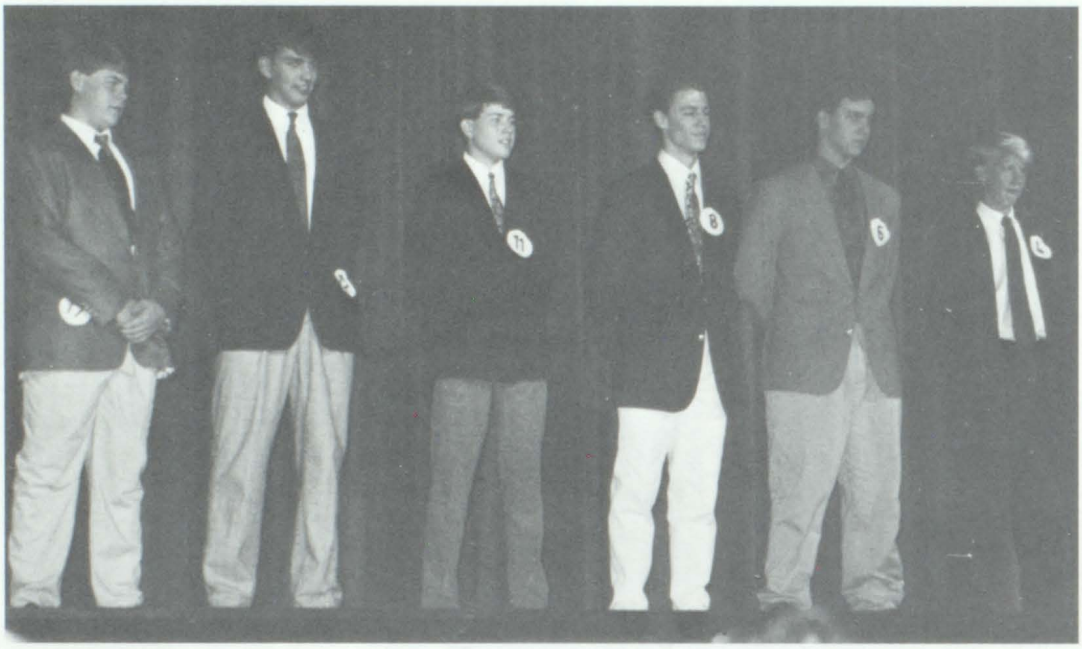

Seniors, Randy Cush, Allison Duncan, Meagan Killen, and Matt May make a wonderful Mr. and Miss Gusher and Mistletoe.

Wild Women And Nautical Nights

"Being crowned Miss Byrd was the highlight of my freshman year."Kortney Shepard, the winner of the Miss Byrd pageant, was an avid participant in other area pageants. "My advice to any girl would be to act natural and to be yourself."

Catharine Roundtree was voted Miss Congeniality by the other contestants. "I was thrilled and I felt special knowing that I was picked by the other girls."

Some might think that being in front of hundreds of people might make a person very nervous. "I love the high stress situations," said Mr. Byrd contestant, Donald Johnston.

The winner of the Mr. Byrd pageant was Trey Bergeret and the contestant that was voted Mr. Nice Guy was George Young.

The sophomore class hosted the annual Girl of My Screams. The guys dressed in heels and right skirts to impress the judges. Keelan Barton won the honor of being crowned Girl of My Screams.

Ashley Dean gives Patrick Mclanahan a good luck hug before he goes on stage at the Girl of My Screams pageant.

The Honorable Court

It Appeals To The Eye

Hail to the court. The basketball spirit was in the air. Four girls were elected by our student body for the basketball court.

In the freshman class Amy Sepulvado was elected. As a newcomer, Amy was on the girl's junior varsity basketball team. "Ohmygosh!" said Amy after finding out the good news.

In the sophomore class Jessica Mayweather was elected. Jessica was a member of R. O. T. C.

IN the junior class Carrie Hendricks was elected. She was on the girl's varsity basketball team and was also a member of Z-club.

Senior, Stacy Miller was elected as maid. Although not a member of the basketball team she performed at several games.

In addition to the basketball court, two other girls were selected as basketball sweetheart and soccer sweetheart. These two girls were chosen by the teams only, not the student body.

Ashley Dean, junior, was selected as basketball sweetheart. Ashley was on Gusher staff and a member of the art club.

Casey Aldridge, junior, was selected as soccer sweetheart. She was active on the tennis team. She attended many of the soccer games.

How To Win With A Pair

DATE: "When a guy and girl go out and have fun together," said junior, Victoria Atkinson.

Certain qualities are looked for before going on a date. Maria Harris, a junior, said, "I look for romance because I love romantic guys." Junior, Pat Peavy said, "I make sure that a girl is fun to be around."

Senior, Pat McCrary said, "I like to go to the lake or to the movies with a lot of couples." Junior, Kristi Keasler said, "I like to meet my date one on one and talk exclusively with him, but dating one person can get boring."

Junior, Elizabeth Neugart said, "When people date around, someone's feelings usually get mixed up or hurt, while dating one person is a lot less confusing."

In Memory Of Sacrifice

On Veterans Day we gather to honor the men and women who fought in wars for the United States. At the assembly this year, Congressman Jim McCrary spoke and the outdoor ceremonies were conducted by Col. Marcotte, a veteran of the 1991 Persian Gulf War. "It was a well-conducted ceremony and I feel that it's smoothness is a testament to the organization of our JROTC program," said Senior Cap. Jim Lyles.

Seniors Brigette Patterson and James Eakin were promoted on stage during the assembly. Said Seni?or Maj. Darrel Upchurch, "Veterans Day is important because it honors veterans of the wars we fought and gives us a chance to reflect on the importance of the sacrifices they made."

Senior Col. Brigette Patterson is congratulated by an alumnist as Ms. Fitzgerald looks on.

Senior James Eakin is promoted to the rank of Lt. Col. His mother and Col. Marcotte pin symbolic diamonds onto his uniform.

JROTC members Jn. Mst. Sgt. David Creger, and Sph. Sgt.'s Bill Kimbrought, Lloyd Bobo, and Lamant Moore stand ready at the outdoor assembly.

Senior Victor LaCour relaxes after school with his remote control in one hand and his cordless phone in the other.

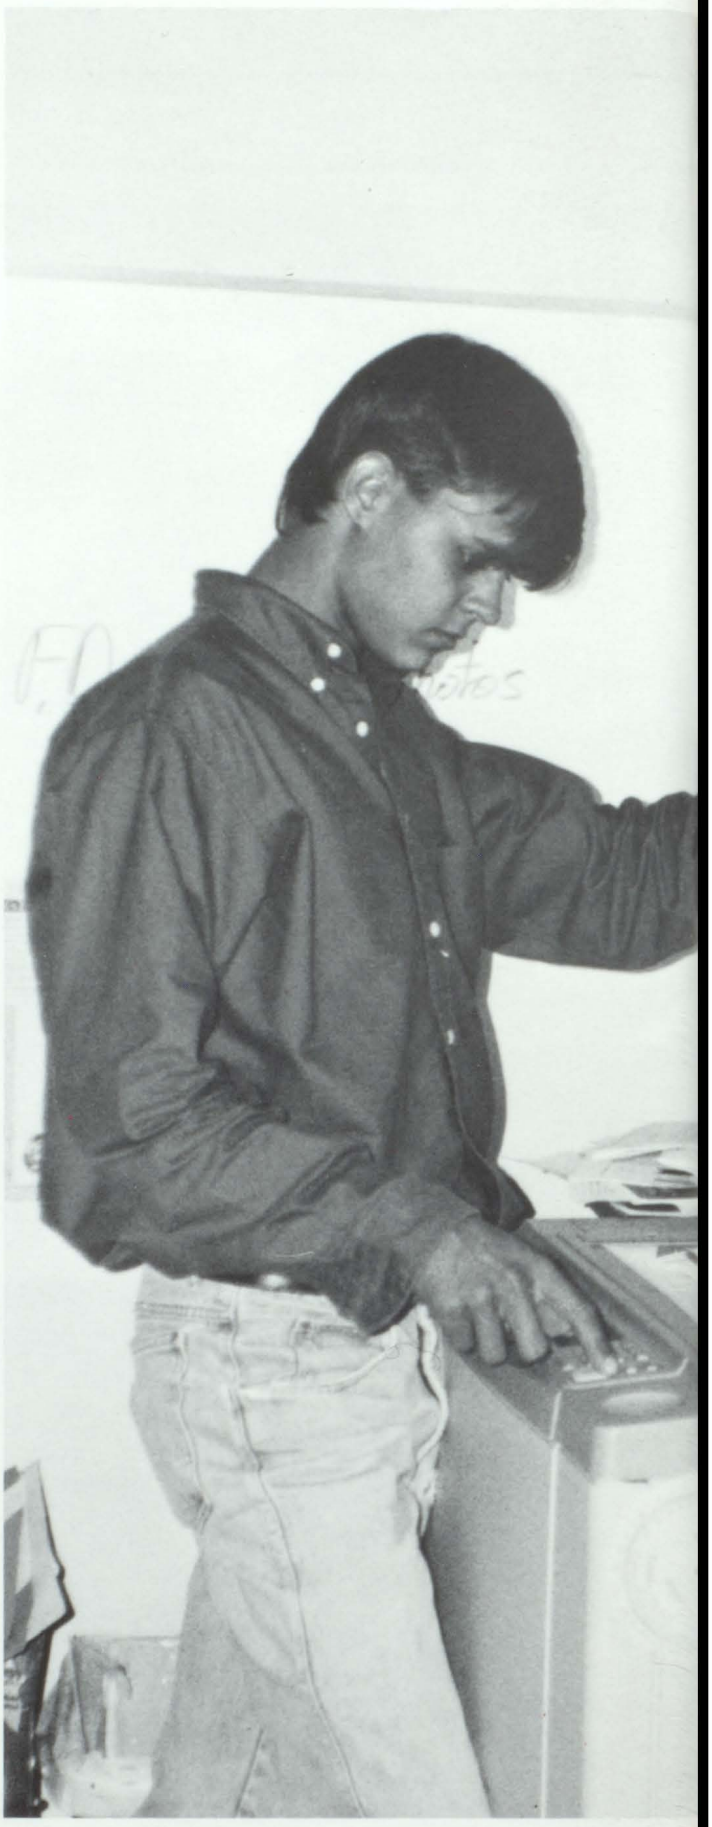

"We do overuse the available technologies of today. I don't think we could survive without them because we've had them so long. Our world would collapse without our electric can openers, alarm clocks, and automatic toothbrushes," said Mr. Meekins.

Junior Kathy Dailey works on a research paper for English.

The Easy Way Out

Students Choose The Modern Way Of Life

"If I lose my remote control, I'll end up looking for it for hours instead of getting up and turning it on myself," said Junior Catharine Rountree. Catharine is not the only one who feels they can not live without today's common conveniences.

Sophomore Caroline Haynie said, "I could not live without a car because I am not a marathon walker and I have things to do, places to go, and people to see that involve using a car."

"It would be hard to live without electricity. If we didn't have it, every aspect of our lives would change," said Junior Christie Morgan.

In Senior Brian Holoubek's opinion, "If I was unable to have an air conditioner, a heater, a refrigerator, or a microwave I would have to live out of Albertson's.

Junior Tami Strong said, "I could not live without a telephone. I don't know- but a good guess would be insanity!"

Junior Walt Peoples said, "We could do without the small ones like electric toothbrushes and curling irons."

Pain For Power
No Matter What The Price

In July, George Bush nominated Federal Court of Appeals Judge Clarence Thomas to take the place of retiring Thurgood Marshall on the Supreme Court, but Anita Hill brought allegations forward that Thomas had sexually harassed her in the early 80's. A long bitter hearing followed. Thomas was found innocent and was voted in as judge by the Senate.

Former Ku Klux Klan leader David Duke and former governor Edwin Edwards made the gubernatorial run-off. After a month of hard and bitter campaigning, Edwards came out the strong leader, and once again became governor. Duke went on to run for President of the United States.

In the Soviet Union, the leaders of the Baltic States began a fight for their independence. This led to a coup formation against Mikhail Gorbachev. He and his family were held captive while the military discouraged the states' revolts. But the Baltic States of Lithuania, Estonia, and Latvia gained their freedom and became independent countries as the coup was dissolved. These activities encouraged the change in the USSR to a democratic republic. At midnight December 31, the USSR was dissolved, becoming a commonwealth of republics.

Mikhail Gorbachev, leader of the Soviet Union, is in the midst of a quickly changing nation. He had vowed to make changes in Russia, and initiated the governmental and economical changes. As a result, Gorbachev will soon lose his position as the President of the Soviet Union.

In November, Magic Johnson announced to the world that he had the HIV virus and was retiring from basketball. His announcement shocked South America about safe sex and AIDS. "I think [illegible] he announced outright to the world that he had the HIV virus and not to the gossip columns. This shows he is very [illegible]," said Junior Shanise Brown.

New Atmosphere New Attitude

Hard Work Brings Renewed Spirit

"I think it's important that students have school spirit and I'm glad that I can take part in promoting it," said sophomore Highstepper Jenny Box. Spirit groups played a big part in bringing school spirit to life. But spirit wasn't confined to the four walls of the gym.

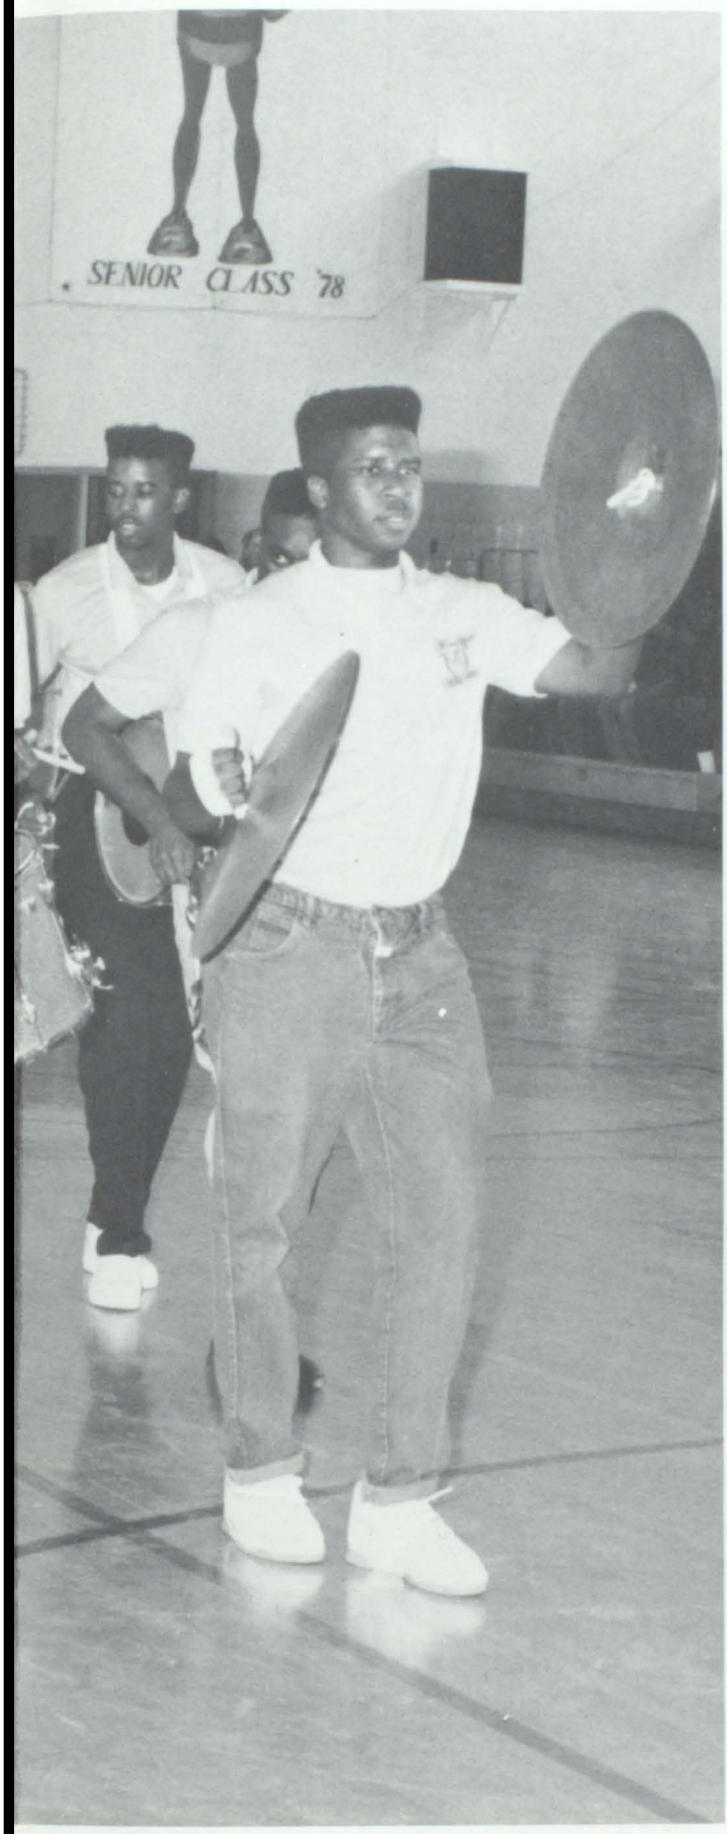

Student Council President Jamie Joiner said, "The Student Council has tried to raise school spirit by creating a new atmosphere with posters, banners, and exciting projects. The student body has responded with tremendous enthusiasm!" The Council worked many summer and after-school hours to ensure school pride and spirit.

This pride carried over to games where the teams could hear and see spirit from the stands through face painting and sounds of the fight song. "It makes me feel good that there are people behind us and supporting us. And even if we don't succeed, it makes us work that much harder for our next chance to prove ourselves," said junior football player Morgan Burke.

Dream A Little Dream

Students Decked Out For Homecoming

"I think the funnest part of Homecoming was when me and my date played freeze out in his jeep," said junior Kera Womack.

"The game was probably the best part of Homecoming because it made everyone so happy that we beat Shreve," said junior Kristen Woodard.

Junior Joel Smith said, "It had been a long time since we beat Shreve, that made it great. Besides, we needed the win."

Students felt that the Hall of Fame was a memorable way to celebrate Homecoming. Freshman Sam Woolford said, "Mr. Duncan was certainly spirited. He was kind of fun to watch. It was interesting how Byrd meant so much to him."

Freshman Daniel Hermes said, "The pep rally was one of the best. The cheerleaders and danceline did a lot more."

Queen Gwen Beaudoin accepts the crown and flowers from Ms. Fitzgerald.

"Just walking down the halls in between classes I could feel how ready everyone was for Homecoming. Everybody was talking about who was going with who and what their dresses look like," said Freshman Amy McInturf.

"This idea of Homecoming and selecting representatives is a nice thing to do. The dress-up days or spirit week was excel lent, and having the ex-graduates back was a great idea especially Mr. Duncan," said Mrs. Robinson.

"Pep squad practiced for almost three weeks for the halftime ceremonies. But I think everything went great," said sophomore Olivia Bradley.

"I think the game was the best part of Homecoming. People were so happy because we beat Shreve. Everyone was still happy even after Homecoming," said Freshman Barbara Ginnsburg.

Setting The Night "At Ease"

For JROTC cadets, the military ball served as a contrast to other dances. "It is different from other functions like Prom and Homecoming because it is a lot more structured," said Cadet Second Lieutenant James Eakin.

While cadets practiced etiquette, they were still able to enjoy themselves and take on a lighthearted attitude toward the evening's processions. Cadet Second Lieutenant Robert Osborne said, "The most enjoyable thing at the military ball is the officer's first dance. You dance will all your 'homies'."

"The military ball is the most important event in all high school. It teaches each cadet etiquette, courtesy, discipline, and manners that each cadet will keep for the rest of this life," said Sergeant Martino.

Colonel Mirchell and Sergeant Dorson discuss the success of the evening's proceedings.

Sail Away

Prom Provides A Party Atmosphere

"Prom was a marvelous and exciting night. I had a lot of fun at the dance and afterwards too. It was definitely a memorable night. I can't wait to go again," said junior Robert Washington. The 1992 prom was held at the LSUS Plantation room in May. The theme was "Sail Away".

"Someone was there working until the dance started. But it was all worth it to see everyone all dressed up," said the prom sponsor Ms. Houchin. "I'll never forget Ms. Houchin saying that for every balloon we popped we had to pay ten cents for it," said junior Kaycie Clark who helped decorate for the prom.

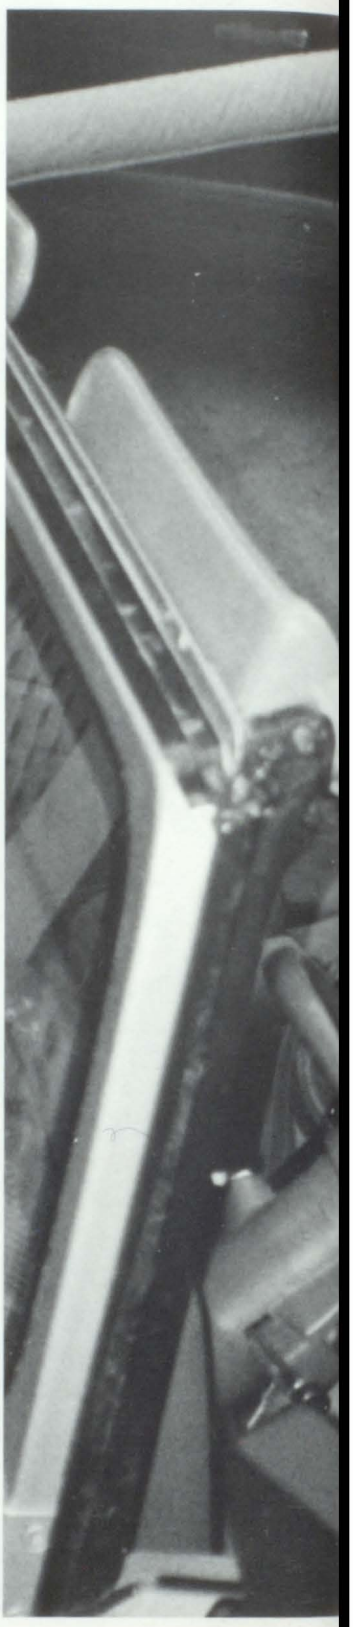

The fun wasn't over after the dance either. Students went to parties, ate, and just hung out with their friends. Junior Scot Kendrick said, "After the dance, me and my date went to the lake and had a romantic evening with a couple of our friends." Junior Kim Vetter said, "We went and ate breakfast at one of our friend's house and spent an hour trying to get our keys out of the trunk they were locked in."

Senior Katie Carrington gets ready to go to danceline practice.

Revved Up And Ready To Go

"Being able to drive wherever I want whenever, I thought I was awesome. But then I realized I would just be running errands for my parents," said senior Chris Young. Paying for gas and maintenance, running errands for parents, and fearing traffic violations were all hardships faced by students. Junior Trey Morris said, "I'm sick of driving. It's running a hole in my pocket."

Freedom, independence, and just plain fun were enough reasons to keep students driving. "I'm excited that I have a car; I don't have to find a ride and wait on other people," said junior Anna Mazziotti.

For some, driving was a way of relaxing. Senior Brandy Baremore said, "I love driving. When I have something on my mind, I always listen to my favorite song on the radio." Senior Laura Richie said, "I like to drive by myself and listen to music. It's kind of a relief."

Junior Trey Morris fills up his tank. He spends an average of $15 a week.

Jackie Treese

Leadership Through Dedication

This years faculty was led by eight administrators and counselors. The four administrators were Principal R. Lynne Fitzgerald, Assistant Principal Roy Thomas, Assistant Principal Ken Bass, and Administrative Coordinator Jackie Treese. The four counselors were Glenda Johnston who served as the Math and Science Magnet counselor, Shirley Rhodes who worked with the freshmen and with the sophomores, Carrie Bell who worked with half of the sophomores and with the juniors, and Anna Vaughn who served as the counselor for the seniors.

Mrs. Treese likes working at Byrd because of "The spirit of Byrd High School." The counselors stayed busy helping the seniors prepare for college, helping the sophomores and juniors prepare for the ACT and the SAT, and helping the freshmen adjust to high school life. These people made Byrd a place students wanted to come back to. Ms. Fitzgerald said she came to work at Byrd because, "I graduated from here and I wanted to come home."

The Stentor: An Honorary Production

The Stentor Features Talent

"I joined Quill and Scroll because I'm thinking about going into Journalism and it looks good on my transcript," said junior, Brian Pierce. Quill and Scroll produces one publication a year called the Stentor. It is a literary magazine featuring student writers. The Stentor consists of original poems, art, and short stories.

Mrs. Bowden has sponsored or co-sponsored the club since 1970. " I like to sponsor Quill and Scroll because it is interesting and the members are simply brilliant," said Mrs. Bowden.

"Quill and Scroll gives me a great opportunity to learn more about reporting so I can better inform the readers," said senior, Robin Jones who is vice-president of the club. "Being in Quill and Scroll is an honor, and it has helped me grow as a journalist," said senior, Jessica Chervenak.

Cultural Politics

At Girls and Boys State, there is more to learn than government. With students from all over Louisiana assembled in one place, it is also a time to experience other cultures and attitudes.

James Eakin said, "I learned that government is very corrupt." Holly Neeson said, "I enjoyed the wheeling and dealing at the party conventions."

Collier Thorton said, "When different people work together for the same goal, they become very close."

James Caverlee and Lauren McElroy agreed when they said, "Hearing Governor Roemer speak is my best memory."

Communication Takes New Direction

K-BYRD Program Airs Every Friday

Last spring when students began registering for classes they found a new elective. Broadcast Journalism, or K-BYRD, was offered for the first time. Twenty-eight students took advantage of this. When asked why she signed up for K-BYRD senior Mary Mitchell said, "I'm interested in broadcasting and K-BYRD seemed to be a fun way to get involved with the student body."

Senior Charlena Cheevis said, "We want to try to get the student body informed of activities, information, and upcoming progress at Byrd. Also, we want the students involved in Byrd." Once a week the K-BYRD students had to produce a twelve minute program which aired every Friday. Since students are more likely to listen to their peers this was an effective way of keeping the student body aware of current events in both their school and in their community. Senior Kenneth Koonce summed-up K-BYRD by simply saying "K-BYRD is an exciting course."

Senior Nathan Bandaries sets up the lights to begin filming this weeks K-BYRD.

More Work Now For Less Later

"In "Trigonometry Mrs. Stephenson works from the bottom up and shows you why something happens. In Calculus you take what she shows you and you manipulate it so it will fit that problem," said senior Jenny Townes.

For juniors and seniors Advanced Placement (AP) classes provided college level challenges along with an opportunity to earn college credit. "I took AP American History to challenge myself and to receive a college credit. The atmosphere in AP is different than my other classes. It is more relaxed and free," stated junior Ryan Powell.

Senior Heather Cheek said, "I think AP Western Civilization is hard because when you are reading you can't just look at facts and dates you have to look for trends."

"The practice tests will help me to prepare, so I'll be ready for the difficulties of the real thing."

"The worst problem faced by students about taking college entrance exams would have to be the stress or the test anxiety."

Standardized Tests Equal Stress

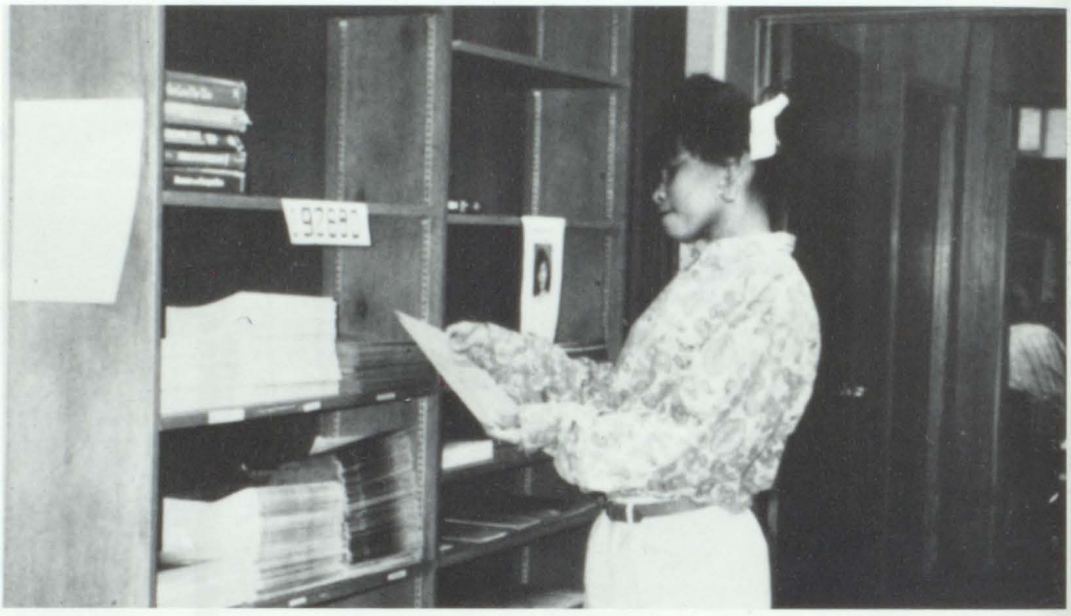

Students Fear College Entrance Exams.

"I worked on learning more vocabulary words and I took the practice tests over and over again, to better prepare me for the ACT and SAT tests." said senior, Christine Keating.

However, does practice always make perfect? No, not according to junior, Trisha Echols. "I think the practice tests mostly stressed me out," she said.

Another student, senior Stacy Miller said, "I don't take tests very well," and especially did not like having to sit still for four hours. Scott Kendrick, senior, said, "The time limit was the worst part about the tests, because it pressured me into rushing through all of the questions."

Another unfavorable aspect of college entrance exams seems to be the great emphasis placed on these tests for college acceptance. "I don't think college acceptance should be based mainly on these tests because people feel pressured and don't do as well as they should," said junior, Brad Fullerton.

Nutritional Balance

"I enjoy cooking and I enjoy seeing other people eat what I have prepared. I love children and since all of mine have grown up, I like cooking for other people's children." said cafeteria manager Dorthey Montgomery, when asked what motivates her to spend hours cooking for other people's kids. There was a time when kids returned home for lunch but of course because of technology, we were able to take time out of our busy day to spend time with friends and enjoy the food prepared for us in our own cafeteria. Do we ever think about how much effort the workers put in, or thank them for the effort?

"We love to hear positive comments." said worker Connie Branton.

Ms. McQuaig said "It is a desirable alternative to fixing lunches everyday and the service is good."

Seniors Catch The Pride

What was on the minds of this year's Senior Class Officers? The answer should be no surprise . . . graduation, graduation, graduation.

The officers met alone and with the senior class to discuss senior t-shirts and graduation. They were also members of the Senior Advisory Committee.

This committee nominated ideas for the class song, motto, flower, and the color of the graduation cap and gowns. The other members of the committee were nominated and selected by the faculty, administration, and Coach Cathey, the senior class sponsor.

Secretary, Holly Neeson, said, "I've been a class officer every year, but this year is the most important because of graduation."

Austen Adams, treasurer, said, "I ran for office to do something good for the school."

The officers worked with the senior class to make their graduation the best ever!

The Senior Class Officers are: Cody Strother-President; Jeff Yeager-Vice President; Holly Neeson-Secretary; Austen Adams-Treasurer; Patrick Moore-Parliamentarian; and Troy Bernal-Sergeant-at-Arms.

The winners of the most likely to .... contest. (Not pictured V. Harris and T. Bergeret)

Most Likely To . . .

When graduates look back they will remember those who made them laugh and those who made them cringe . . . those who made them envious and those who made them wonder exactly what planet they were raised on.

Those most likely to succeed were James Caverlee and Jamie Joiner. Most likely to party HAD to be George Young and Virginia Harris. Those most likely to flirt with anything that moves were Brad Wilkerson and Kim Crosby. Most likely to ask pointless questions was Donald "DJ" Johnston and Kaycie Clark. Most likely to marry young was Trey Bergeret and Jenny Townes, since Jenny was already engaged to be engaged with the love of her life, Flynn.

Anyone who happened to have had a class or even talked to these ten specific seniors would agree that they carry out their positions brilliantly.

"Neat!" exclaimed Jamie Joiner, president of the student body, when she found out that she was elected most likely to succeed.

"I wasn't surprised because all of my life it has basically been expected out of me," said George Young, after finding out that he was elected most likely to party.

"I got most likely to . . . what?!" said Trey Bergeret, after finding out that he was the senior male who was most likely to marry young.

Freshmen Aid

"It wasn't as important that we introduced ourselves to the freshmen, as it was that we introduced them to each other," said Top Jacket Meagan Killen. Top Jackets were role models who coordinated Jacket Pride Rally and Ride, helped freshmen get around on the first day, and gave them advice for taking midterms.

Top Jacket Officers were Jenny Townes, President; Lauren McElroy, Vice President; Trey Bergeret, Treasurer; and James Eakin, Sergeant-at-Arms. Top Jackets were: G. Beaudoin, T. Bergeret, J. Caverlee, J. Dudley, A. Duncan, J. Dunn, J. Eakin, J. Joiner, E. Jones, R. Jones, M. Killen, E. Lynn, W. Maranto, L. McElroy, M. Mitchell, M. Moss, R. Osborne, B. Patterson, A. Schutzenhofer, J. In Other Words

"At times during the game, I get excited, get down on the ground, and start barking at the opponent," said senior Titus Daniel, also known as "Lunatic". He and other football players gave each other nicknames such as: Robert "Ole Boy" McCoy; Eric "White Lightning" McDade; Charles "Insane" Strother; Collier "Son of the Man" Thornton; and Dwayne "Maniac" Williams.

Meagan Killen, also known as "Moose", got her nickname from her friends who often say "going on a moose killen'". They thought it was funny and ironic to call her "moose" because she is slim. "Ol' Sport", otherwise known as Jennifer Dunn, was so named "Because she never gets upset or mad; she is good natured and generous," said Jamie "Crazy Louie" Joiner.

To many he was known as "Potz", Aaron Wimberly, who his friends said he resembles Potz on the t.v. series "Happy Days". Donald "Inspector Gadget" Johnston got his name because of his khaki detective type jacket that resembled Inspector Gadget's.

Other familiar nicknames were: Blair "Geek" Bright, Katie "L.B.-Little Booger" Lang, Yvette "Lil' Moma" Patterson, Branci "Ba Ba" Williams, and Rand "Mongo" Cathey.

"Carpe Diem"

Only the best will do-The Class of 1992. For four years this has been the year to look forward to. In 1988-1989 the freshman class was one of the largest in the school's history. More than a third of these ninth-graders were in the Math-Science Magnet Program. The FOCUS program was begun to help the freshmen survive. Angel Hines said that starting high school, "felt like joining one big family."

The sophomore year brought about driver's licenses, biology, world history, and after school jobs to fill the days and nights of students. Robert Osborne said, "My best memory of my sophomore year is acting in Julius Caesar with James Eakin."

"My junior year at Byrd was by far the best." said Amy Haynes. Class rings, prom, and Puritan Day were only a few of the exciting activities that put the juniors one step closer to the senior year. Scot Kendrick said, "My junior year Helped me realize who and what I was."

And finally, "Seniors." What a title, what an accomplishment. What a better way to top it off than a victory over the Captain Shreve Gators. The year was full of excitement from the first day until the final walk across the stage on May 20, 1992. "Graduating will be the biggest accomplishment of my high school career." said Aaron Wimberly. Trent Austin's advice was, "Though we're leaving, the future is what you make of it, whether good or bad. You can't be held back unless you give up."

Senior LaTasha Johnson makes it known she is a member of the class of '92.

Taking Charge

Junior Class Officers Get It Together

Leadership is an important skill which is only learned by actively taking charge. This year the Junior Class was represented by their class officers and by the Ring Staff.

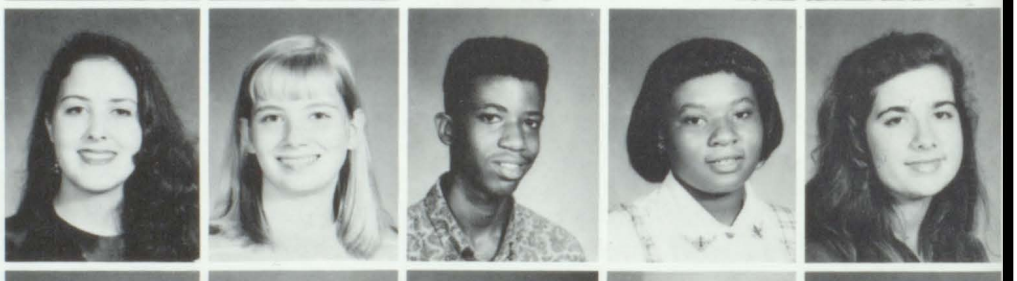

"Getting to plan activities like the prom or the Senior Cake make being a leader fun," said Junior Class Parliamentarian, Ashley Brittain. The Junior Class Officers also helped the cheerleaders with pep rallies this fall.

The Ring Staff was important in Junior Class activities as well. They helped organize meetings with parents of Juniors about class rings. Ring Staff President, Rachel Sullivan said, "Getting a Senior Ring is important to all Juniors and I wanted to be a part of it". Other Ring Staff members were Ambronita Douzart, Elizabeth Neugart, Leslie Sinitiere, Pamela Stewart, Tammi Gilyard, Alison Thibodeaux, Troy Dupree, Coy Green and Christie Morgan.

What's What With Who's Who

Who's Who Among American High School Students is an organization that honors high school students who have achieved both inside and outside of the classroom. At least that's what they say.

"I thought it was no big deal," said Ryan Powell. About 56% of the Junior class received a letter about Who's Who. And with so many people being nominated, not everyone was excited. "They just put your name in a book; big deal," said Brian Pierce.

On the other hand, there were still quite a few Juniors who considered it an honor. "I was kind of stunned, but I forgot to send it back," said Craig Touchstone. "I was surprised. I think it's a good thing to get," said Jeanette Crout.

Icee's, jeans, gas, the new Garth Brooks' tape - there's so many things to spend money on.

"I have a problem with running out of money at the end of the week," said Lane Dossett, who gets an allowance from his parents. Damon Tilton said that he enjoyed getting an allowance because it helps him better manage his money.

An Early Lead

Sophomores Take Control

Motivation, cooperation, and desire were qualities of the sophomore class officers.

Vice President Caroline Haynie said, "Our goal is to make the sophomore class so great that everybody will notice."

Sophomore class sponsor Mrs. Thompson said, "Serving as a class officer is an experience in leadership. We hope that the sophomore class officers this year will learn to plan, cooperate, implement, and grow in wisdom. Hopefully these students will become more sophisticated as a result of their experience this year."

Treasurer Lareesa Ferdinand said, "We sophomores have reached the summit of our lives but we are still heading towards our senior peak. Class of '94 is made up of true leaders that are going to the top."

What If . . . .

Exercise For The Mind

"If I could be any sports star I would want to be Jennifer Capriati because she is an incredible tennis player. But also, because she is an inspiration to anyone with high hopes and big dreams," said sophomore Olivia Bradley.

Such thought provoking questions as "should I", "could I", and "would I", were epidemic among sophomores.

"I would like to be Sigmund Freud so I could listen to people and predict or analyze people so I could help them with any psychological or emotional problem that they might have," stated sophomore Mike Bodenhamer.

Though some students wondered about a total change of person, others wished to acquire some characteristic of a close friend. "If I could have any characteristic of my friend, it would be her patient personality. I don't have any patience," commented sophomore Jennifer Dean.

A Look Can Say. . .
A Thousand Words

People express themselves through clothing, music, and the cars they drive. If we all looked alike, we would still express ourselves through words and actions. "Around people I know I'm very outspoken and loud. But around people I don't know I'm softspoken and shy." said Sophomore Kelly Shell.

People's facial expressions can affect other people's emotions. "When people smile it makes me happy because I know they are happy." said Sophomore Stephanie Bitowski.

"When somebody smiles at me, it gives me a boost of confidence." said Sophomore Jimmy Moore.

There are safe ways to release negative feelings in positive ways. "I usually talk to my best friend or my parents about what I'm feeling." said Sophomore Steven Carter

Working Their Way Up

Class Officers Gain Foothold In The City

"I believe Byrd and my class benefit from my spirit because everytime I turn around people are telling me I have a lot of it," said Sergeant-At-Arms Shawn Shea.

"Through middle school at First Baptist, I was secretary of certain clubs. I'm really organized, and I felt I was best suited for that position," said Secretary Ashley Drummond.

"I enjoy being president because it looks good on your college record, and I like being in charge," said President Hunter Winterton.

"I don't want to run for president because too much responsibility is put on you, so vice-president suits me just fine," said Vice-President Laura Evans.

Making

A DIFFERENCE

Senior Rand Cathey and Juniors Brian Pierce and Brad Fullerton discuss plans for a High Life issue.

Senior Randy Cush and Sophomores Tim Allen and Jennifer Loftin participate in "Death Trap".

Band members, Laura Cramer, Lindy Wells, Susan Hitt, and Sharmanda Edwards perform during half-time.

Junior, Kathy Dailey, helps the Art Club during Christmas.

Orchestra member, Chris Gadsen practices hard during class.

Sophomores, Katie Cochran, Olivia Bradley, and Catherine Evans are all dressed up for Z-Club initiations.

More Than The Lesson Plans

"Clubs are hard to run. The sponsors put in a lot of time and effort so we can meet and have activities to participate in and be active," said sophomore Amy Mills. Copying letters, scheduling meetings, collecting dues, and contacting members are only a few of the tasks that they must perform.

"Maintaining order in a large group, and helping students to realize the importance of organization in activities is sometimes difficult," said Latin Club Sponsor Mrs. Genevieve Sassin.

"It keeps me involved and a part of what is happening. I felt that Byrd needed someone to do this job and by doing it I get to work with a large number of students than just my art classes," said Activities Coordinator Linda Rowland.

Z-Club Sponsor Teressa Stephenson said, "Sponsoring activities takes a lot of time, but it is also very rewarding especially if students say thank-you."

"If club members would accept responsibility for attending meetings, participating in fundraisers and providing input into what program activities they want would make my job easier," said Biology Club Sponsor Ms. Cathy Williamson

"Believe me, it's all worth it," said Band director Chuck Edwards

"The sponsors devote a lot of time and effort to their activities. The bigger the club, the more work for the sponsor," said French Club Sponsor Mrs. Rhonda Reyaud.

L. Rowland, S. Koontz, T. Sermons, D. Usher, A. Jackson, T. Stephenson, and A. Harter show their Halloween spirit.

Mrs. Diane King, Spirit Jackets Coordinator, instructs senior Trey Bergeret on leading a pep rally.

Biology club sponsor, Ms. Cathy Williamson, gives junior Shrunda Bryant two bags of the 2131 Boo Bags to deliver

The club sponsors are: M. Bowdon, A. Carter, A. Case, R. Crosby, S. DeCarlo, M. Dodd, K. Dowling, C. Edwards, A. Graham, A. Jackson, D. King, S. Koontz, B. Landers, M. May, H. Meekins, K. Nunley, K. O'Neal, P. Patterson, J. Pennywell, M. Pilgreen, D. Pizzolato, R. Reyaud, L. Rowland, G. Sassin, T. Stephenson, J. Treese, D. Usher, E. Washburn, P. Weaver, J. Williams, and C. Williamson

Mrs. Sharon DeCarlo, National Honor Society Sponsor, conducts order in a club meeting.

Sgt. Martino prepares the Sabor Corps for the half-time show at the Captain Shreve game.

The Necessary Fund

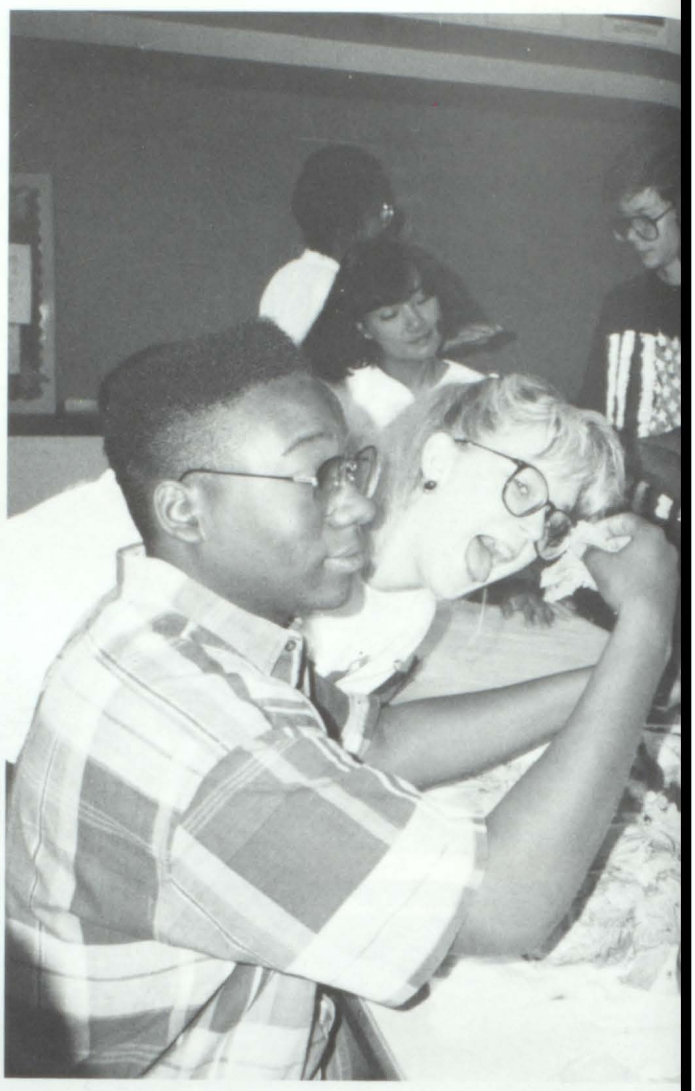

"Fundraising is an essential part of every club so that they can put on the activities they want to," said senior Robin Jones.

Danceline qualified to go to nationals in Orlando, Florida and to raise money they had a car wash and a pancake breakfast.

"To raise money for the Latin club's trip to Baton Rouge we sold turkey grams," said junior Ambronita Douzart.

The Student Council sold T-shirts and made submarine sandwiches for the teachers to raise money for the school.

"Selling boo bags for Biology club was a lot of work," said senior Dawn Futrell.

Mrs. Johnston sells bumper stickers and Yellowjacket license plates to raise money.

Senior Dawn Futrell delivers boo bags for Biology club on Halloween.

Sophomores Jennifer Woods, Brandy Woods, Temetra Chapran, and Turkeesa Harris organize the boo bags.

Seniors Brandy Baremore and Eric Lynn and Student Council sponsor Ms. Koontz make submarine sandwiches

The Executive Committee members are J. Anderson, T. Austin, B. Baremore, T. Bergeret, T. Bradford, A. Carroll, J. Caverlee, M. Chism, K. Crosby, J. Crout, A. Douzart, L. Ferdinand, T. Gilyard, E. Spann, R. Sullivan, A. Thibodeaux, B. VanKirk, T. Wadley, T. Walker, C. Weidner, Y. Williams, A. Wilson.

"Fundraisers are an excellent way to improve club activities and club relations," said Christan Weidner.

"The Fundraisers Student Council has put on this year has made it possible for us to do more for the school, said Cory Brown

Seniors Jenni Smith and Molly Henderson and junior Lynse Larance sell balloons for Spanish club.

Student Council officers are President Jamie Joiner, Vice-President Eric Lynn, Secretary Hershey Iem, Treasurer Holly Neeson, Parliamentarian Elizabeth Neugart, and Sergeant-at-Arms Ayo Anderson, Homeroom representatives are I. Had To Be There

"Meetings are the only way we can communicate with each other. Communication among members is important," said senior Kenneth Koonce. The force that brings everything together in time set aside for club meetings is communication. Sponsors, officers, and members all need time to communicate their desires, complaints, and suggestions. Though clubs only had thirty minutes to meet during activity period, plans, fundraisers, money, and other business were discussed. Ms. Pennywell, sponsor of Future Homemakers of America, said, "We discuss old and new business and brainstorm new fundraisers."

Darrell Hall and Dessiette Hunt prepare snacks for a Future Homemakers of America meeting.

Officers: Pres.-G. Smith, Vice Pres.-R. Williams, Sec.-B. Nelson, Tres.-S. Brown, Sgt-at-Arms-J. Alexander, Rep.-L. Cramer, Comm. Ser.-R. Washington; Members: C. Banks, S. Bigsby, S. Hampton, H. Hope, A. Martin, T. Morris, C. Zealy

Officers: Pres.-K. Koonce, Vice Pres.-L. Cannon, Sec.-I. Ashley; Members: K. Buchanan, K. Gardner, D. Morris, T. Prosby, F. Young

Tracey Proby, Latreisha McKay, and Ms. Pennywell demonstrate a cooking technique to FHA members.

Garrison Smith and Brandee Nelson recite the Pledge of Allegiance during a 4-H meeting.

Officers: Pres.-T. Stinson, Sec.-T. Poindexter, Comm. C.P.-G. Beaudoin; Members: S. Bell, J. Brown, K. Carter, T. Chatman, R. Crosby, J. Crout, S. Daniels, T. Daniels, S. Dryant, J. Dudley, T. Dupree, L. Feranimand, S. Franks, M. Funcheon, C. Gully, M. Harris, T. Harris, J. Henderson, E. Horn, D. Howard, L. Johnson, E. Jones, A. Kimble, T. Latin, C. Leevis, E. Lynn, Q. McKnight, C. "Meetings give members a chance to tell sponsors their ideas and opinions on what they want to do," said junior Brandee Nelson.

"At SADD meetings, members have been working on a video about a basketball player who drinks and drives," said Mr. Robert Crosby.

"Through the meetings, members can let the sponsors know what they want out of the club, and vice versa," said freshman Ryan Williams.

"We have a guest speaker at almost every meeting. It is usually someone from the co-op exchange who speaks about topics of general interest of 4-H members," said Ms. Nunley.

"Meetings give members the chance to voice their opinion on and time for them to make decisions," said senior Gwen Beaudoin.

Service Raises Spirits

"We can get involved in making our school better by doing school service," said Junior, Stacie Speight. National Honor Society, Key Club, PTSA, Z-Club, and Student Council were ways for students and adults to contribute to the school.

PTSA's Fundraising Chairperson, Mrs. Janie Holt said, "Providing man power for Bingo games, selling decals and pins, and having a spaghetti supper are ways PTSA raises money for Byrd."

Senior, Chris Ray said, "We learn that by doing the smallest things we can help our school." Key Club helped the school by cleaning the campus one Saturday.

Z-Club members did teacher help every week. Senior, Gwen Beaudoin said, "Helping teachers lets some of the girls get to know teachers they did not know."

National Honor Society provided a tutoring program on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Co-Sponsor, Mrs. Sharon DeCarlo said, "School service is an important way for students to learn to give back to the school."

"School service activities provide for greater interaction between faculty and students and opens the door to new ideas," said Junior, Scott Self.

"I like to do school service because it makes me feel good to help people and I love to see people smile," said Sophomore, Aya Anderson.

"I know that when I do school service I'm helping out my fellow students and teachers," said Junior, Victoria Atkinson.

Senior, Jennifer Dunn tutors Sophomore, Taiesha White for the National Honor Society's tutoring program.

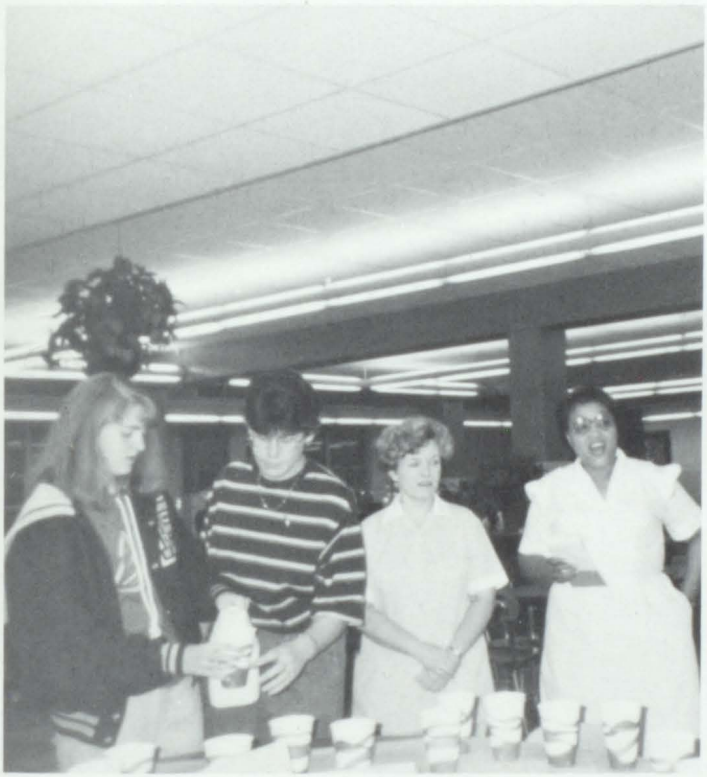

Senior, Cody Strother cleans the school grounds during a Key Club service project.

Mrs. Diane Gosslee and Ms. Jackie Mahoney sell PTSA memberships on Freshmen Orientation Night.

PTSA officers and chairmen: Pres. M. McElroy, 1st V.P. C. Thibodeaux, 2nd V.P. B. Kimble, Hist. J. Rose, S. Gardner, A. Schwendimann, and B. Matthews

Juniors, B. VanKirk and B. Nelson serve refreshments for Mrs. C. Branton and Mrs. D. Montgomery on Custodians' Day.

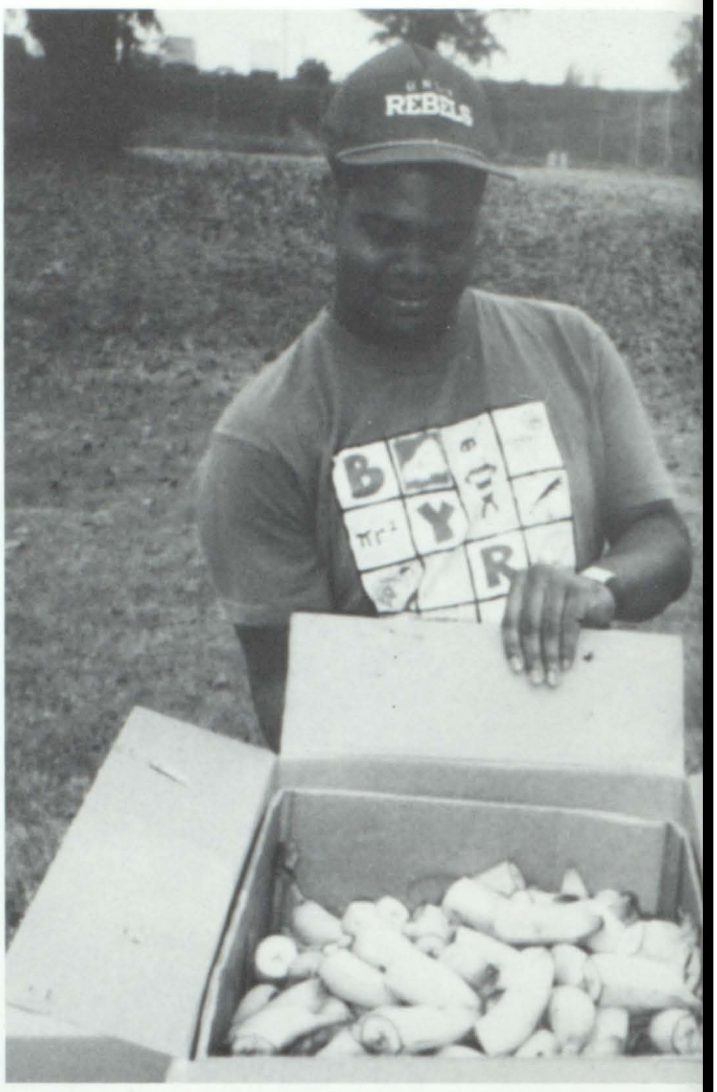

Sophomore, Olivia Bradley files papers for Mrs. Dawn Usher while doing teacher help for Z-Club.

Reaching Out To The Community

The focus of Key Club and Z-Club this year was community service.

Members of Z-Club volunteered their time to a service project each week. "Working at the Schumpert Adult Day Care Center gives me an opportunity to talk to and help my elders," said Senior member Christine Keating.

Key Club has also been active in serving the community. "This year we've helped at the Revel, passed out water at a 5K race, and escorted handicapped children at the Fair. Doing things like those really make me feel good," said Vice-President, Brian Baker. Senior member Jim Lyles said, "Key Club allows us to return something to the community which has given us so much, and it's also a lot of fun."

Student Council Members Eric Lynn and Jamie Joiner pick up cans for the Salvation Army Canned Food Drive.

Stephanie Bitowski and Leah Nix entertain visitors with math games at the Revel for Mu Alpha Theta.

At the Revel, Mu Alpha Theta member Carrie Henderson tells a young mathematician about geometric shapes.

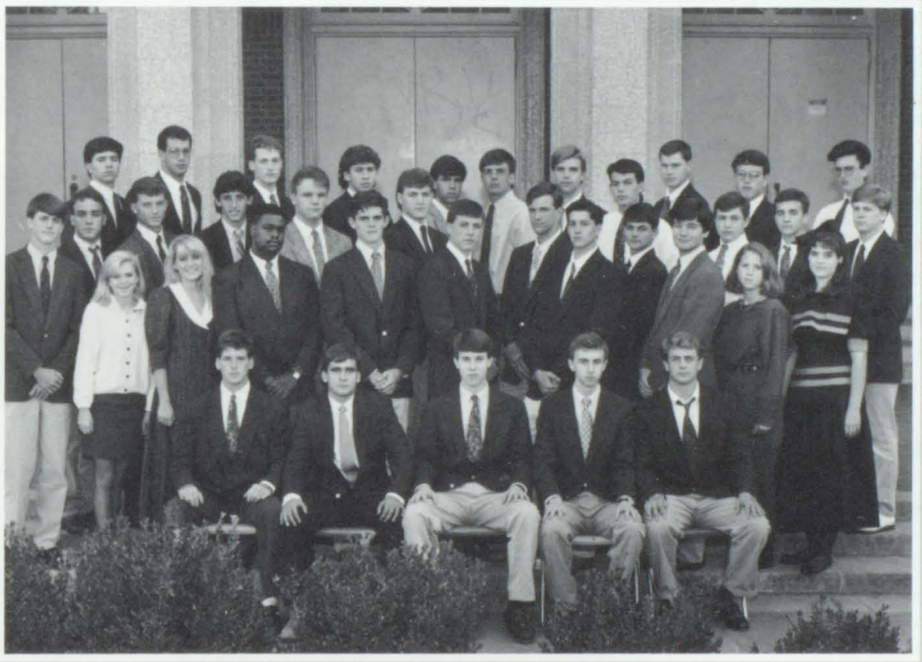

Key Club member Eric Jones passes out bananas at the Leg It For Literacy race.

Z-Club members: Pres. C. Keating, Vice-Pres. M. Richard, Sec. B. Patterson, Trs. A. Douzart, His. H. Neeson; Snrs.: B. Baremore, G. Beadoin, K. Carrington, H. Cheek, J. Chervenak, K. Chidlow, K. Ms. Williams, Mrs. DeCarlo, Will Maranto, James Caverlee, Holly Neeson, Randy Cush, and Allison Duncan are the sponsors and officers of N.H.S.

Calculating For Top Honors

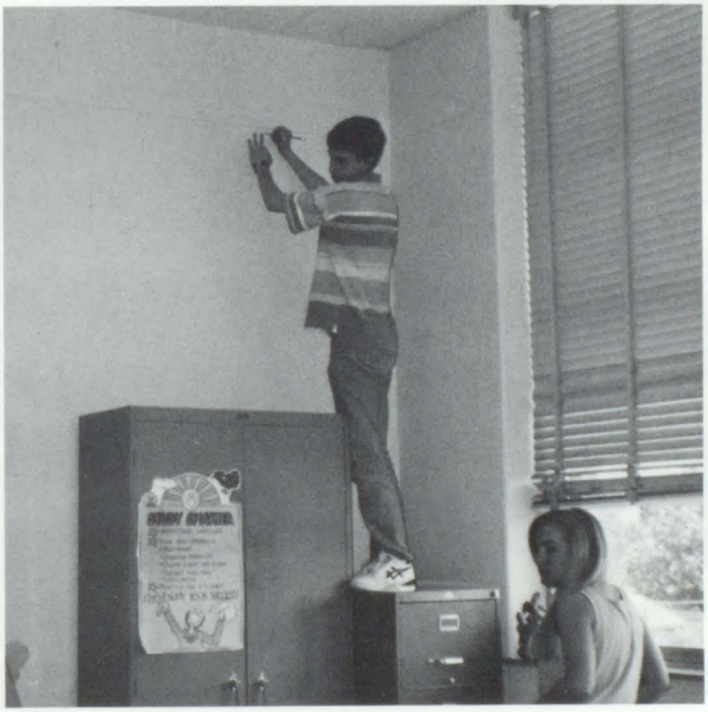

The Grover C. Koffman chapter of National Honor Society concerned itself with service to the community and reinforcing to the students to work hard to reach their goals and to do their best. Junior Jay Park said, "National Honor Society has given me a since of accomplishment because it is an honor just to be in it."

Mu Alpha Theta's purpose is to create an interest in mathematics. Junior Phillip Thompson said, "Hopefully my interest generated in mathematics by being in Mu Alpha Theta will help me in my engineering career." The club sponsored the Regional Quiz Bowl held in March. They also ran a mathematics booth at the Revel.

Seniors Cody Strother, Jeff Yeager, and Matt Moss discuss activites for N.H.S.

Juniors Beth Van Kirk and Lynse Lawrence listen intensively at a N.H.S. meeting.

No English Spoken Here

The Latin Club began again this year. Along with community service, they studied the origin of the language. "Even though no countries speak Latin, I enjoy studying it because it helps my vocabulary," said Senior Chris Young.

The Spanish Club was led by Senior Molly Henderson. "We are one of the more active clubs and I'm proud to say I'm a member," she said. They planned fund raisers and sung Christmas carols at the Rose Center.

The French Club celebrated Mardi Gras and studied the French culture further. "I wanted to be an officer so I could be more involved and help plan activities," said Sophomore Olivia Bradley.

Sophomores Katie Reno and Leigh Anne Jones and Freshman Cammie Holladay listen attentively at a recent meeting.

"I like studying Latin because it is an interesting and uncommon language," said Junior Kim Weiland.

"Spanish Club is great. We do a lot of activities and I like to help out with it," said Junior Lane Dossett.

"I'd like to go to France as a foreign exchange student. French is an interesting language to study," said Junior Ashley Wilson.

"The Latin Club helps underprivileged children by playing with them after school and I really enjoy it," said Junior Philip Lipson.

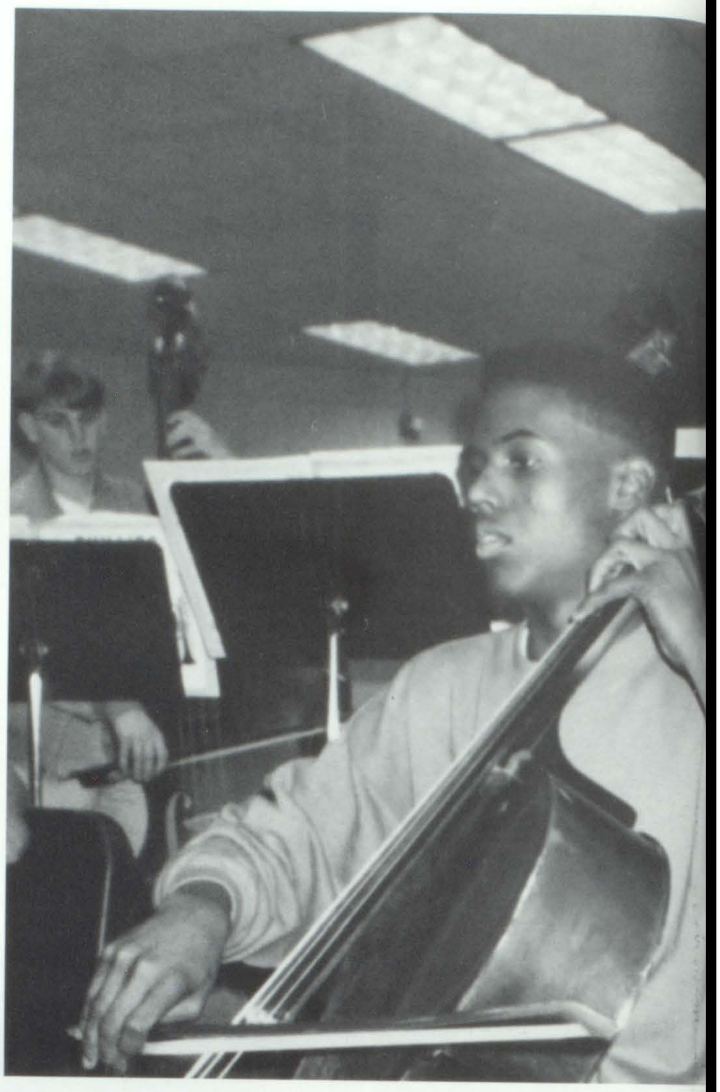

"Spanish is interesting and it's so much like English; that's why I like to study it," said Sophomore Kelley Shell.

Name That Tune

All throughout the school, the sounds of music and singing could be heard every day. These were the sounds of the orchestra and the choir.

The choir and orchestra both performed in Christmas concerts at school and South Park Mall. The orchestra also participated in district competition.

"I enjoy choir because of the variety of music we sing and it gives me a change to get voice training," said senior Christine Saunders. Senior YuDaina Moore said, "In class, we learn new songs and our different parts in them. We also learn how to stand still and concentrate on what we are singing."

Choir members dance and sing during choir practice.

Members of the choir practice singing for the Christmas program.

Freshman orchestra member Eric Wynns practices on his part of the next song.

The orchestra members are: K. Buchanan, C. Burton, K. Carter, J. Crites, S. Davenport, P. Evans, T. Farmer, C. Gadson, W. Gibson, C. Hawkins, R. Hayes, H. Hope, J. LaCour, K. Lampkins, J. Lewis, J. Paton, A. Seeliger, C. Triplett, E. Wynns, C. Bryant, R. Epps

"I enjoy having the ability to be able to learn music. There's a lot more work to being in an orchestra than people think. We don't just pick up instruments and play," said Senior Violinist Angela Seeliger.

"The potential maturity of the players is what I enjoy because of the challenge that I can present them with through the level of Orchestra Literature. It can be a means to no end," said Orchestra Conductor Mr. Case.

Violin players in the orchestra review their pieces during orchestra practice.

Learning Hands On

"I have learned more about biology by going on field trips and listening to speakers. Being secretary has given me a sense of leadership and it has allowed me to become more involved," said senior Jenny Roberts. Students expressed the desire to learn more than the classroom offers through academic organizations. Biology Club, Earth Care, and Science Club provide a fun, learning environment for students interested in different aspects of science.

Earth Care was the channel for which students could express their environmental concerns. Sophomore Amy Vetter said, "You can do something about saving the environment through Earth Care."

Freshman Ashley Drummond and sophomore Micheal Glover listen to Joel Smith talk about plans to go to the marine consortion.

Junior Tracy Mitchell listens to Dr. Silberman as he addresses members of Biology Club on a field trip.

"Science Club has given me the ability to think better and to get a better understanding of science," said senior Darrell Upchurch.

"I want to give students a chance to interact with each other in a positive way, I want to give them field experience that's not available in the classroom," said Biology Club sponsor Cathy Williamson.

"Science Club has plans to put on chemistry shows for elementary schools. We are also involved in many science competitions," said Science Club President Joel Smith.

" I want students to learn the joy of exploring and understanding science just for the sake of understanding," said Science Club sponsor Hal Meekins.

"We all need to become more aware of what we as individuals can do to help our environment," said Earth Care sponsor David Pizzolato.

Contributing Creativity

"Drama is a fun and exciting club. You learn how to get in front of people and speak. You also learn how to act. You get to work closely with other classmates in the plays, and it develops new friendships," said senior Stacey Avant.

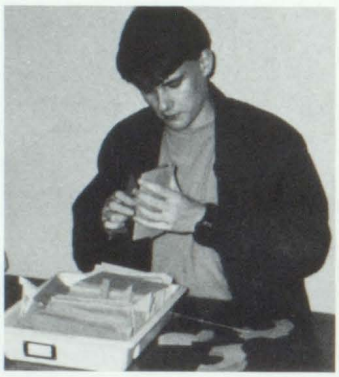

Theatrical Society members helped present Deathtrap in November.

Art Club members shared their creative talents with the elderly and the children of the community during the Christmas season.

"I was attracted to Art Club because in my spare time I like to draw and paint. In Art Club I can still enjoy these things and help the school and community," stated senior Mackey Richard.

Junior Anna Mazziotti assembles the set for Deathtrap.

Just For The Fun Of It

"Clubs are a good way to meet people, and they also have fun activities," said sophomore, Jamie Kleinman.

Students have different ideas of fun. "I enjoyed going to convention this year at Captain Shreve. I became closer with Shreve's Student Council while having a good time," said junior Hershey Iem.

Clubs give students a chance to learn while having a good time. "I love being in the Spanish Club because it is a way to have fun from learning a foreign language. We saw a very 'interesting' play called La Tuna," said junior Rachel Sullivan.

Sophomore, Kellee Ryan said, "I'm in Earthcare and I really like it because we do things like planting trees, recycling cans, and cleaning up parks." Different activities are enjoyed by students. Junior, Kim Weiland said, "The FCA Christmas party was a fun time to gather and fellowship with other Christians."

"I like going to the FCA Meetings. It is interesting to hear the different speakers. I have fun being a part of the club," said junior, Martha Cooke.

"I like Danceline best because I love to dance and be with my friends. Danceline is the perfect combination," said sophomore, Branden Minord.

"I like being in FCA because I like to fellowship with other Christians," said junior, Kristi Keasler.

"I like being a Z-Club volunteer for the Toy Shop because I get to see parents who are less fortunate buy gifts," said senior Brigette Patterson.

Juniors, Stacie Speight and Elizabeth Horn have fun at the Biology Club Christmas Party.

Junior, Rachel Sullivan enjoys eating breakfast at a FCA meeting.

Competition Crazy

There were activities outside the classroom that students could participate in to help them learn through research, practice, and competition.

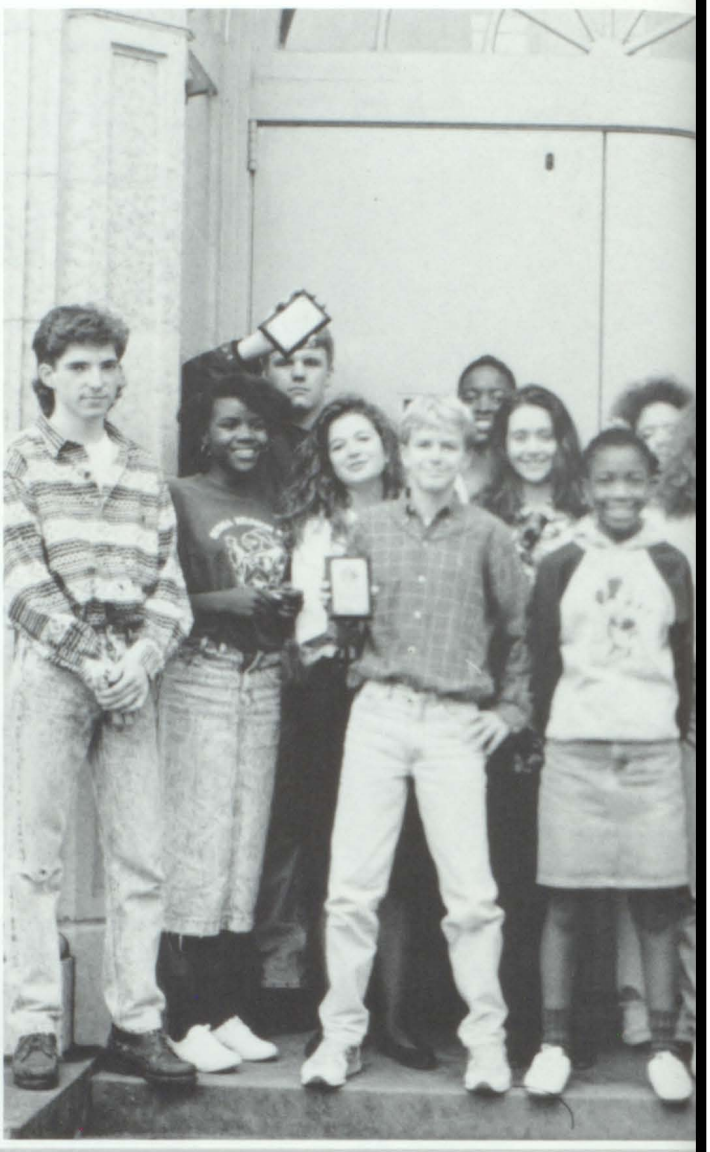

Decathlon was a team of nine students sponsored by Mrs. O'Neal. They were preparing for a competition in the second semester.

Quiz Bowl met most Fridays after school to practice. "I think the competitions are fun. They call for a quick recall of everything from cartoons to art to sports," said sponsor Mrs. Treese.

Debate was taught second hour by Mrs. Dowling. Students worked two hours after school a week. Senior Daniel Wilby said, "A person should take debate if he is good at arguing and is confident in front of people."

Senior Jennifer Conduff and Senior Karen Hanson discuss the Decathlon tests with Mrs. O'Neal.

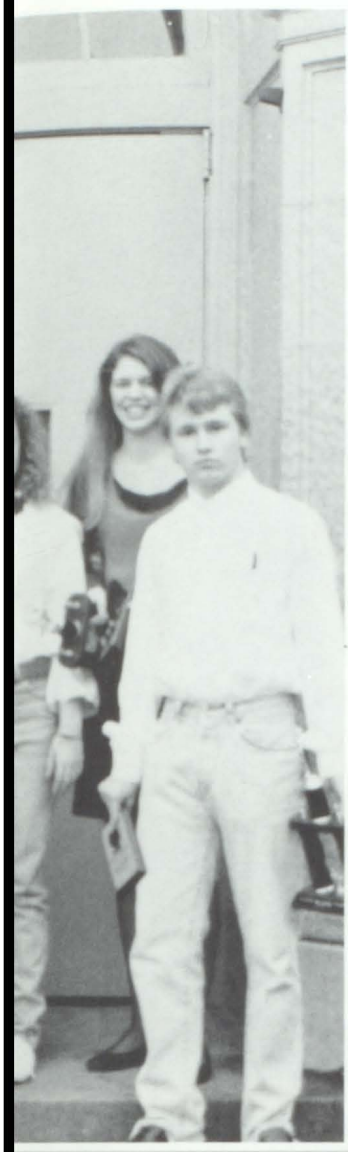

The members of Debate were: M. Hansen-Pres., A. Austin - V. Pres., L. Swinney - Sec., K. Woodard - Treas., M. Kymes, M. Nix, L. Byrd, D. Wilby, J. Bass, Y. Alford, K. Payne, and C. Bates. Not Pic: A. Hayes and L. Swinney.

The members of Academic Decathlon were: J. Caverlee, T. Walker, K. Hanson, J. Smith, J. Conduff, W. Maranto, S. Fife, and D. Nightingale. Not pic: J. Lyles.

The debate team shows off their awards.

Senior Matthew Hansen is caught in "deep thought" between debate rounds.

Senior Jim Lyles and Senior Brian Baker study history for Quiz Bowl.

The members of the Quiz Bowl were: J. Lyles - Capt., J. Caverlee, M. Killen, J. Townes, D. Nightingale, N. Slaughter, and B. Baker. Not Pic: D. Lawrence.

"I like the fact that Quiz Bowl is challenging and I think the trivia is interesting. I also like the team because we work well together," said Senior Jenny Townes."

"Quiz Bowl is a vigorous workout of the mind," said Senior Daniel Nightingale.

"Decathlon helps me expand my horizon and see things I normally wouldn't. It also gives me a great opportunity to better understand and appreciate my world," said Senior Jennifer Conduff.

"One of my most frightening moments was in my first debate when a guy on the other team talked so fast that I couldn't understand anything he said," said Sophomore Lavesha Swinney.

"In debate I've learned about friendship, teamwork, and pride in performance," said Senior Matthew Hansen.

"You're responsible for everyone getting their work done plus your own," said editor Senior Stacy Wibben

"I am on High Life because I want to pursue a career in journalism," said Junior Brian Pierce.

Senior High Life member Mackey Richard types up her story while seniors Kim Vetter and Angel Hine make sure she gets it right.

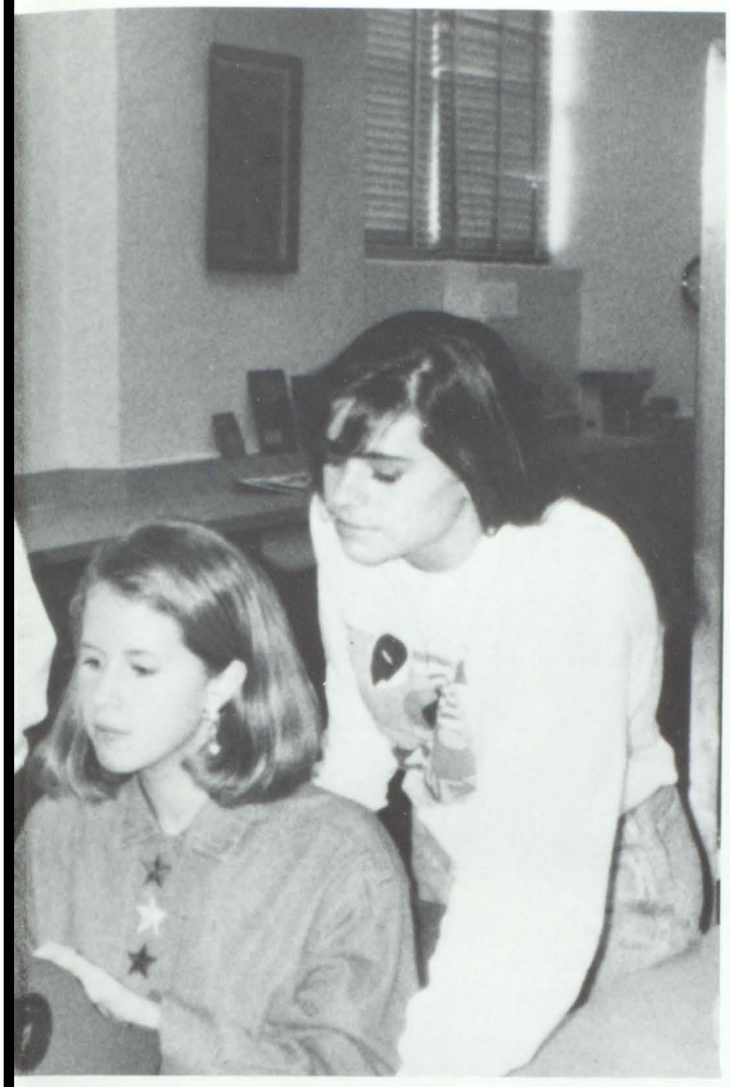

The 1991-92 High Life editors are: R. Jones, E. McDade, B. Wilkerson. Other members are: A. Adams, B. Baremore, T. Bernal, K. Branton, K. Brown, R. Cathey, S. Chidlow, K. Embree, D. Franks, B. Fullerton, A. Hine, E. Jones, T. Kraszewski, K. Lang, P. Moore, H. Neeson, B. Pierce, E. Rembert, M. Richard, L. Richie, L. Sinitere, C. Strother, K. Vetter, D. Wilby, and J. Yeager.

Got To Get It Done

"I'v learned responsibility and not to put things off until the last minute," said junior Gusher member Maureen Tierney. "Dealing with deadlines and getting in the articles from the reporters is the hardest thing. It only gets hectic when we're laying it all out," said senior High Life member Rand Cathey.

To assure the quality of the yearbook and newspapers, the staffs held fundraisers. The High Life staff sponsored Homecoming and the Gusher staff held the Mr. and Miss Byrd pageants. The Gusher staff also attended camp at Denton, Texas.

Senior Gusher member Allison Duncan said, "I'm on staff because I want to produce a book that as students get older they can be proud of."

Senior editors of High Life, Brad Wilkerson, Eric McDade, and Robin Jones, check the proofs before the paper goes to the printer.

Junior Gusher members Michelle Mahoney, Martha Hooper, and senior Allison Duncan look at last years book to make sure the same mistakes aren't made twice.

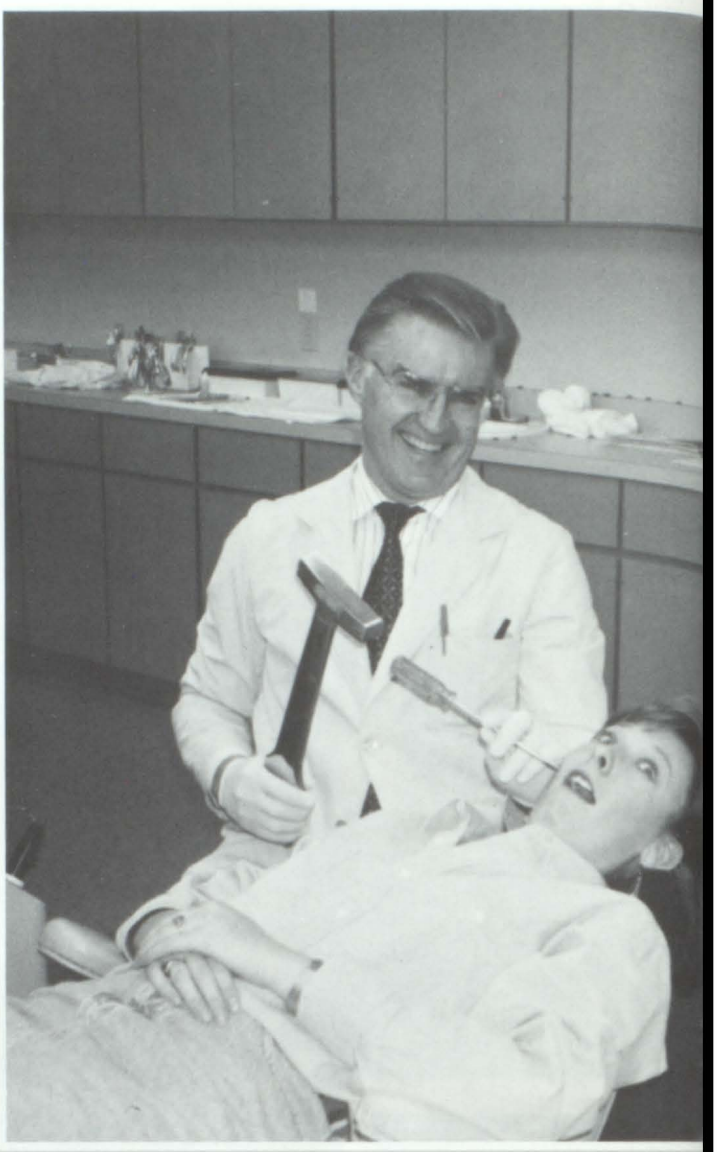

All About Business

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is a club that helps students further develop education in marketing and promotes a better understanding of our free enterprise system.

FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) is another club that helps students become better acquainted with the business world.

"I like being a part of FBLA because I want to major in business when I go to college and FBLA is preparing me for that," said Senior Gwen Beaudoin.

COE (Cooperative Office Education) offers students a chance to get acquainted with an office environment.

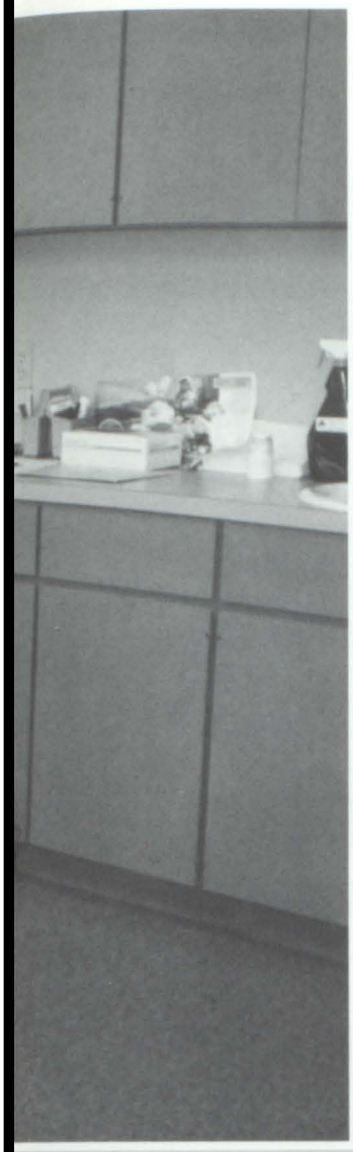

Senior Catina Egan works in Mr. Thomas' office as part of the COE program.

The members of FBLA are Y. Anderson, P. Beasley, G. Beaudoin, S. Bell, L. Brown, S. Bryant, A. Carroll, C. Clark, T. Daniel, N. Demery, C. Egan, R. Franks, L. Goodrich, V. Hall, T. Harris, J. Senior Nancy Tharpe works with Dr. Drummond as part of the COE program.

Kamecia Thomas works at Olive Street Management as a secretary and she also works on the computer.

Senior Christy Clark works in the school office along with Ms. Flanagan.

The members of DECA are T. Atkins, H. Beauregard, T. Beck, T. Chan, C. Floyd, R. Franks, R. Garcia, M. Kilpatrick, A. Kreutzer, R. McCoy, N. Parmelee, B. Tais, S. Turner, E. Walters, T. Whitacker, K. Youngblood, M. Walters

"COE has given me a chance to see what it is like to have a job while still attending high school. I think being part of COE has made me more responsible" said senior Nancy Tharpe.

"I love my job and I like making extra money while still in school." said senior Dean Franks.

"FBLA teaches you about business professions and helps prepare you for future jobs in the business world," said senior Molly Henderson.

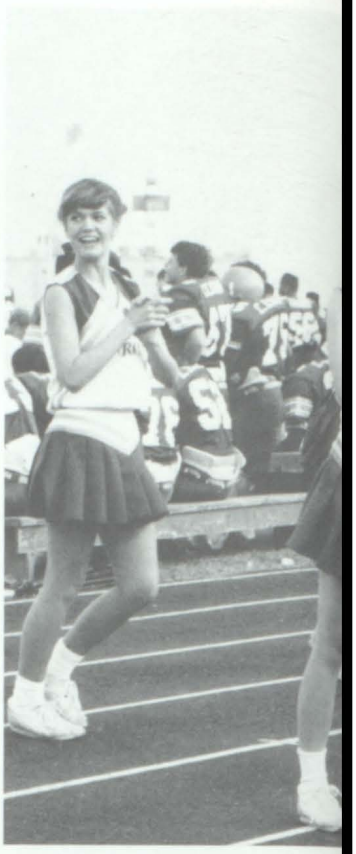

On A Roll

"Our whole purpose is to get the crowd involved; when they do, it makes me feel good. Cheerleading gets the whole school more involved and pumped up," said Junior Susan Chidlow.

The cheerleaders practiced during the summer, along with after school once a week. They led the pep squad and danceline in cheers and pepped up the fans. Their dedication and spirit for the teams got everyone excited about sports.

Three cheerleaders, Seniors Kim Chidlow, Dawn Futrell, and Lauren McElroy, were invited to go to London over the summer because they were chosen as USA all-stars at cheerleading camp.

The cheerleaders' hard work and determination paid off. "When the crowd cheers with you, it makes you feel like you've accomplished something and like all your hard work paid off. We let the team know there's somebody there for them," said Junior Ashley Brittain.

"I wanted to get involved in leadership and bring up everybody's spirit more," said Senior Bridgette Patterson.

"I think cheerleading lets the team know there's someone who's there for them whether they win or lose," said Senior Jenny Townes.

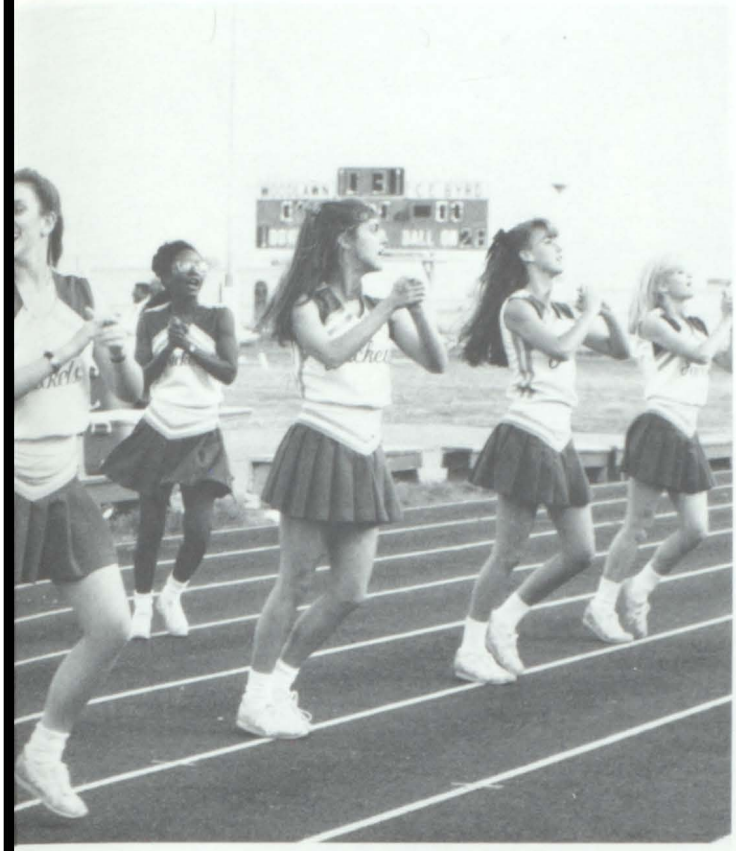

"Without cheerleaders, who would pump up the crowd," said Senior Catina Egan.

The cheerleaders lift up spirits at the pep rally for the Parkway game.

Senior Kim Chidlow has high spirits at a rally for the Captain Shreve football game.

Heather Cheek, Jenny Townes, Bridgette Patterson, Dawn Futrell, Ashley Brittain, and Susan Chidlow pump up the fans.

Marching In A New Direction

"The quality of a band really depends on who the director is," said Laura Cramer.

Under the direction of Mr. Chuck Edwards, the Band took part in many events this year. Other than performing at football games and pep rallies, the band also participated in the Hall of Fame luncheon and marched in parades.

Another new addition to the spirit groups this year was the majorettes. They marched along with the band at football games and pep rallies and performed twirling routines.

"I wanted to be a majorette because I love twirling and marching," said sophomore drum majorette Sherrika Daniel.

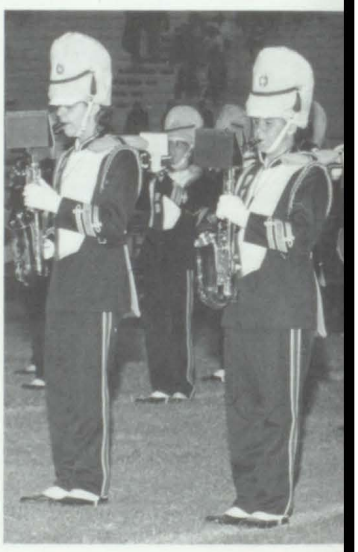

Drummers Lloyd Bobo, Duke Morris, Lamont Moore, Katraylus Williams, and Bert Eakin practice for the Homecoming festivities.

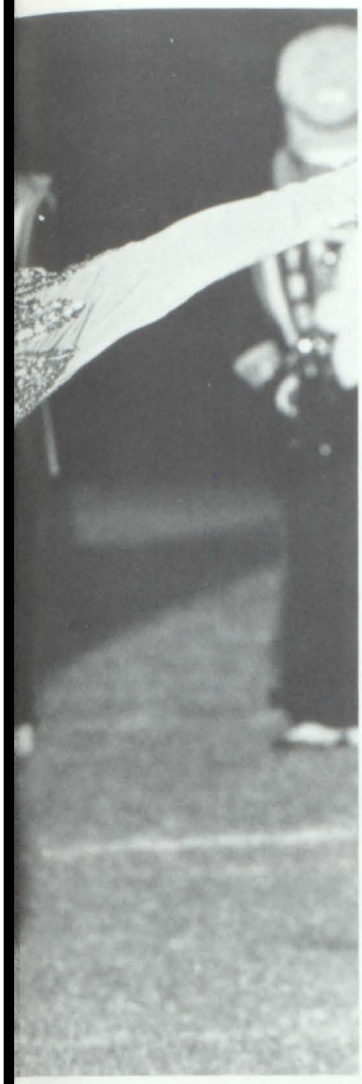

Band director Chuck Edwards instructs the band as to what song to play next.

Majorettes Artanzia Wilson, Chantel Gully, Sheneeta Williams, Sherrika Daniel, and Keysha Jack perform a routine.

Danceline Invited To Nationals

"I enjoy danceline because you get to show your school spirit and I think it's fun to motivate the crowd! " said Junior Sarah Kendrick.

Performing in front of the crowd is what most of the members like best. "My favorite type of dance is funk. It's easy to get yourself and the people in to it." said Junior Ashley Cryer.

While the overall benefit is having fun, it is also hard work. "Staying after school all the time is hard. We also have to practice sixth hour." said Junior Adelia Crooks.

At danceline camp in Lake Charles, The Highsteppers were awarded the superior trophy and the chance to compete in nationals in Orlando, Florida. "I hate the fact that the only reason we weren't able to go is because of money. Next year we will be able to go though. We're awesome!" said Junior Trisha Echols.

The Highsteppers had a new sponsor. "I decided to become the sponsor because I was on the danceline at Parkway High School, a member of the Warbonnetts at NLU, and I just wanted to stay with some type of drill team," said Ms. Landers.

"I like danceline because it teaches you responsibility and discipline, but you have to give over 100% all the time," said sophomore Jamie Kleinman.

"I tried out for danceline because I like to dance; it gives me a chance to be competitive," said sophomore Brandon Minnard.

"Performing gives me a chance to smile; it makes me happy," said junior Rachel Sullivan.

Demanding Support

"I loved being on pep squad because when I came to Byrd I didn't know anybody, but now I've become good friends with all of the other girls on pep squad," said Freshman Kayla Procell.

This year the pep squad worked extra hard learning different dances for the pep rallies.

"I was excited to be elected president of pep squad. It was a big responsibility, but it was a lot of fun," said Sophomore Olivia Bradley.

The Freshmen cheerleaders cheered at all of the Freshman games.

"I was a cheerleader in middle school, so I was glad I was picked for the Freshman squad so I could keep on cheering," said Freshman Alison Lackey.

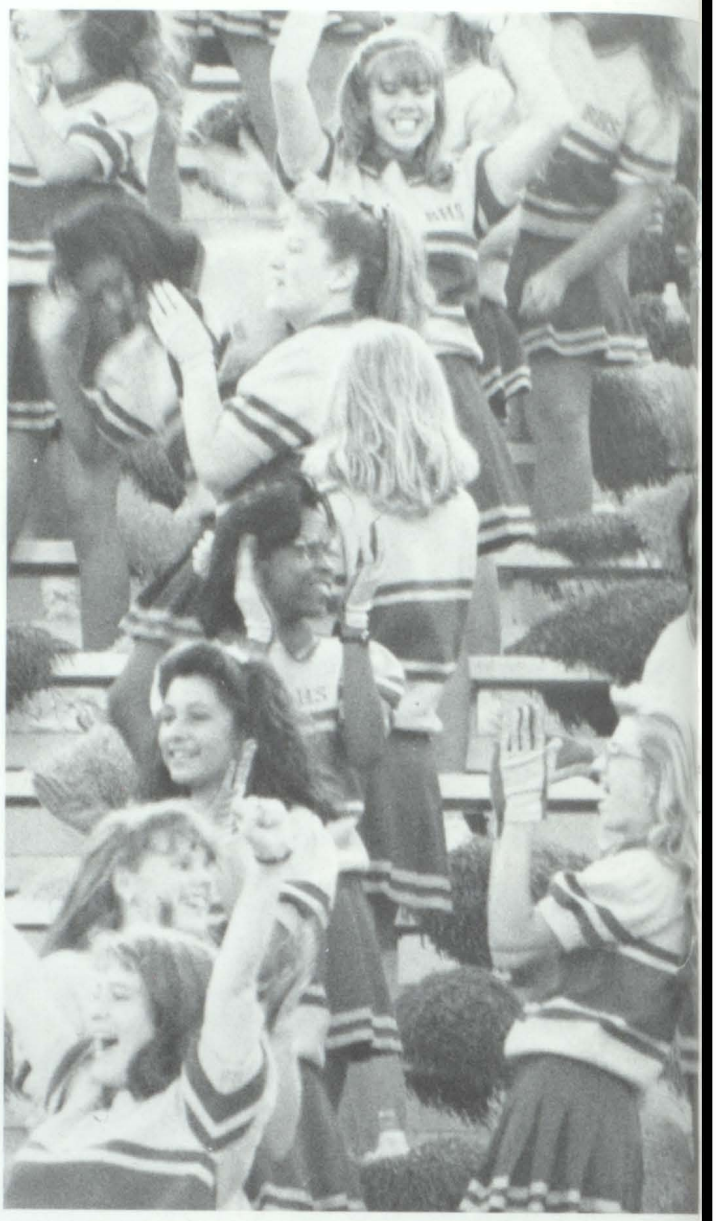

"Being a Freshman cheerleader was great because I felt like I was already getting involved my first year at Byrd," said Freshman Ashley Drummond.

The JV Cheerleaders cheered at the junior varsity football and basketball games and at the soccer games. Being on the junior varsity squad prepared many of the girls to be varsity cheerleaders.

"Cheerleading is a lot of fun and I am glad I could cheer at Byrd, said Sophomore Kelly Spillers.

The Freshman Cheerleaders are A. Lackey, K. Carthen, V. Murry, T. Hansford, K. Creger, A. Drummond, A. Prewett, J. Harrrel, R. Rhein, S. Shea. The JV Cheerleaders are K. Spillers, K. Ryan, C. White, J. Capp, S. Bitowski, J. Woods, J. Long, K. Ramsey

Paving The Way

"The key to being a good leader is to carefully think about all the possibilities before acting on your first impulse," stated senior Tom Walker.

While leadership styles differ from person to person, the essential qualities that form leaders have remained the same.

"Leadership is the basis for growth in JROTC and a successful career: having respect for your followers, and the ability to work with others are good qualities in becoming an effective leader," said senior Brigette Patterson. This year the Yellowjacket Battalion is commanded by senior James Eakin.

"Leaders take charge and do what it takes; without leaders the world would be in chaos," stated senior Trent Austin.

Who's Your Company?

Organization is a must for a group of 448 cadets. ROTC is divided into seven different companies: Headquarters, Alpha, Bravo, Charlie, Delta, Echo, and Foxtrot; each having their own commander and set of officers. "The responsibility of being in charge of a company is to make sure that the company performs their duty, completes their task, and accomplishes every mission given to the company," said Senior Rashonda Williams. The commander is also responsible for communicating with the company. "My commander is Shadrick Jones. He keeps us motivated and informed about meetings and events," said Sophomore Amanda Rogers, Echo company member.

Competition was a major issue as each company strived to be their best. Company "A" received the award for selling the most spaghetti dinner tickets and was also known as the best marching company.

Bring New Glory To The 'Old Glory'

"At competitions you are not allowed to talk and it drives you nuts. I can't stand being quiet for forty-five minutes. But, I get a thrill out of winning, we always win," said Junior Samala Duffy. This year the Rifle Team certainly proved to be a team driven by dedication and motivation. "I enjoy shooting rifles and I thought a competitive atmosphere would be exciting," stated Junior Stephen Milam.

"When we win a competition it gives me the feeling that all the practice has paid off and that I've accomplished something," said Junior Clay Foster. For the second straight year, the team posted an undefeated district record.

"Color Guard teaches you to respect the symbol of our country, the American flag, 'Old Glory'," stated Junior Michael Breaux. Precision, duty, and teamwork defined the Sabor Corps, the Honor Guard, and the Color Guard. "Everyone recognized the American flag as a symbol of honor and pride, to be associated with that is a great feeling," said Junior Jeff McKenize.

The Turning Point

The Football Team Brings Back A Winning Tradition.

"The team feels like we have finally accomplished something this year and brought the winning tradition back to Byrd," said senior Brian Holoubek. The team finished the year at 6-4, one victory shy of making the playoffs. Senior Eric McDade said, "It feels good to be a part of a winning team, but it hurt to know after losing to Fair Park that our season was over."

Part of the team's success can be contributed to a new one-back offense that has produced a more wide-open attack. Senior Collier Thornton said, "The coaches also helped install a sense of winning and made us realize that we had to come together as a team."

"This year will be remembered as the turn around point of Byrd football and the seniors were a major part of it," said senior Rob Latimer.

Junior place kicker, Morgan Burk attempts to kick a field goal against the Southwood cowboys.

Coach Allen Carter and Coach Mike Suggs watch intensely as they decide the next play to call.

Never Thought Of . . . .

But Always Believed

When the football season began, no one thought our team would be a district contender. The facts favored that assumption. For the past three years our football team has compiled an overall record of 6-24 and were chosen by area coaches to finish seventh in their district. The last winning season the team had was in 1981.

"They were just tired of losing," said head coach, Allen Carter. At years end, the team had finished with a 6-4 record. The level of talent was increased due to practice. "We seemed to improve the more we practiced," said senior Rand Cathy.

Senior Collier Thorton became only the fourth quarterback in the schools history to throw for over 1,000 yards in a season. "The coaches put in a good offense and we utilized everyone's talents," said Collier Thorton.

Given High Expectations Jackets

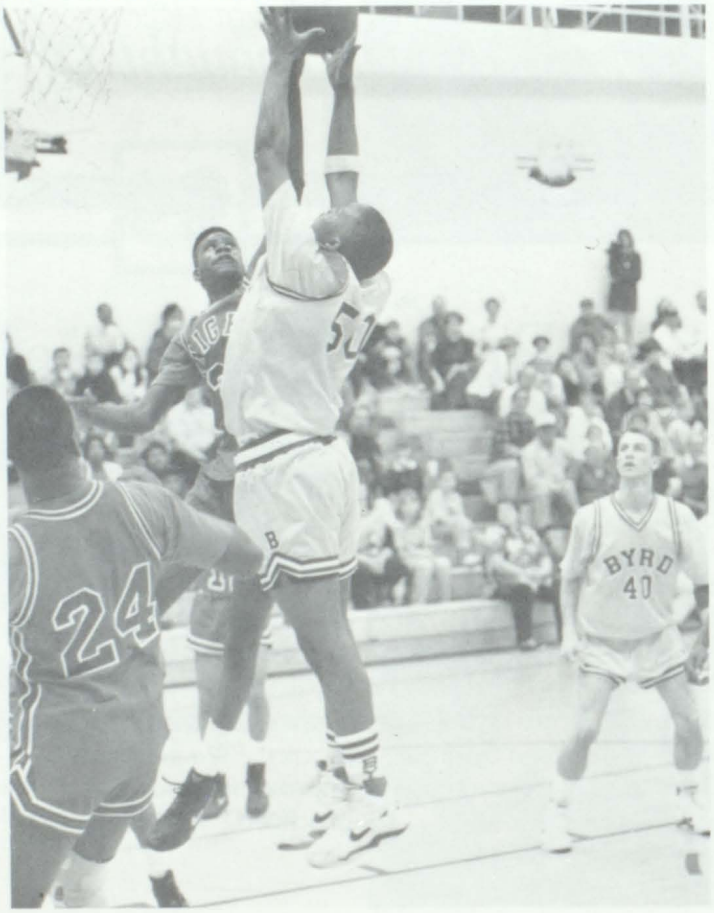

Rise To The Challenge

"This year has been more surprising than ever," said third year coach Delbert Clinton. "we have exceeded the expectations put upon us," he said. This season included a 41-40 victory in the finals of the CNB-Times Classic Tournament and many close exciting games.

The members have spent many long hours practicing together after school and have been there for each other in times of need. Senior Jarvis Dudley said, "This team is like a family. We work together to make each other better and we are the best of friends." Coach Clinton said, "We shot the ball well all year and used the three point line a whole lot more than in years passed." Senior Robert Thompson said, "Our success has come because of our great coaching staff and the intensity this team possesses. We were well prepared for any opponent because of Coach Clinton and Coach Howell.

Girls And Boys Prepare To Be Victorious

The 1991-92 Junior varsity, boys, Freshman boys and Junior varsity girls basketball teams were once again very successful. All three teams competed strongly all year long. At the same time the players learned the skills needed to play Varsity basketball. The Junior Varsity and Freshman programs are designed to prepare young players for their coming years as a basketball player. These teams taught the players the value of hard work and team play. All the long, hard practices were well worth it when the teams left the court victorious.

Coach Ronnie Howell handled the Junior Varsity and Freshman boys basketball teams. "We started out the season playing real well, we lost a couple of players, but picked up some freshmen to fill in and they are doing a good job for us. I think we have accomplished getting some of the younger kids some valuable playing experience," said Coach Ronnie Howell.

Coach David Duhon led the Junior Varsity girls basketball teams. A team effort was the key to their success. Junior Varsity team member Amy Sepulvado said, "Everyone is a team and act like one, we do everything together as a team." Coach David Duhon said, "Our goals were for everyone to give their best effort."

To The Top

"Basketball gives me the thrill of competition," said sophomore Katie Cochran. "You can never know too much about basketball. It's hard to master," she said. This year the girls completed a sweep of the CNB-Times Classic Tournament with a victory over Pelican. This was the girl's first major tournament win ever. Sophomore Lesli Volrath said, "I never thought we would go that far in the tournament and I feel it proved that we could play basketball." This sweep was the first ever by any school in the tournament's history.

This year proved to be the best year for these girls. They won the CNB Tournament, the Brownsboro Tournament, and the Sandyland Shootout which included a victory over B. T. W. They played in front of a packed house several times and became one of the premiere girls basketball teams in the city. "The enthusiasm of the fans helped to pump the players up and get them going before a game," Junior Carrie Hendricks said. "We thank them for all of their support," she said.

Senior forward Velma Jackson reaches for a rebound as she is fouled from behind.

Senior Blair Bright gets his feet in position to make a long kick down field to another team member.

Freshman Hal Wright uses his quick feet and agility to move the ball towards the goal for a score.

Reaching Their Goals

Working Together Brings Successful Season

"I enjoy playing on the soccer team because everyone is such good friends," said Senior Patrick Moore. Teamwork was the middle name for the soccer team as they took to the field for another great season.

Freshman varsity player David Kendrick said "At times it's not so fun being a freshman because we always have to put up the nets, pick up balls and put everything away when practice is over, but everyone had to do it at one point, so I know I'm being treated the same."

"The reason the soccer team is so close is because it is a small team, and we spend a lot of time together practicing," said sophomore Jason Brady. All of the practicing paid off as the team started the season beating Airline 2 - 0 in the finals of the Pineville Tournament, winning their first tournament in many seasons.

What makes soccer different from other sports? Senior Blair Bright said, "If you lose concentration you could miss an opportunity for a goal."

The first Winter formal was held on January 18, 1992. The dance lasted two hours. The theme was Wonderful Tonight. It was sponsored by the Key Club. The money raised went into the Key Club fund which was used for community service.

Senior Christan Weidner said, "It was the best dance the school has ever had!"

Junior Lynse Larance said, "I really enjoyed the music and the disc jockey."

Senior Mary Mitchell said, "Everyone had a great time dancing at the Winter formal. Hopefully it will become a tradition at Byrd."

Mom and Dad,

They say that nothing is more important than a solid foundation. You've given me love and support and now I stand firm and proud. I am sure there were many times you wanted to give up on me but because you didn't, I now have the strength and courage to move forward. Thanks for your diligence and patience.

Love Always,
Gwen

The Blood Drive this year was held on January 21st. Many students and teachers signed up to donate their blood for a great cause.

Junior, Anthony Kimble said, "I have never given blood before. I thought it would be an excellent opportunity to save someone's life!"

"My dad used to work at a blood bank, so I thought I would give it a shot. I wanted to do something noble and possibly save someone's life." said junior, Lane Dossett.

After it was all over most donors felt weak or tired. Kristi Keasler said, "I felt spaced-out and my arms were really tired!"

Mrs. Washam, a grateful donor, waits patiently while she gives her share of blood. She sure looks happy in pain!

This locker gives the students an opportunity to voice their opinions, in earlier years the Student Council did not always listen totally to the students and this year that's what it's for.", said senior Holly Neeson.

The painted face on the locker gave it a character of its own. This set it apart from the other lockers, making it easy for students to share their ideas for improving the school.

KAYCIE AND KIM - Friends Forever Without Change Seniors '92

Deputy Jim Hatfield was the sheriff this year. He has been working as a sheriff for nine years. "I have worked patrol and everything else as a sheriff, but I like this the best, it is more of a challenge, it is like my own little city," said Deputy Jim Hatfield. He handled codes and disturbances and patrolled the parking lot. "I enjoy working with the students and solving problems, it is a challenge because there are so many different kinds of students," said Deputy Jim Hatfield.

Students felt safer with a full time sheriff at school. Junior Sarah Kendrick said, "Having him here should stop most disturbances."

Deputy Jim Hatfield, the full time sheriff this year, talks to students during their lunch shift.

You'll Always Be Our Baby! Love, MOM AND DAD

As you know Albert Einstein invented the theory of relativity, but "Einstein," a pet Iguana owned by Junior Matt Kymes, attracts women. "I like Einstein because he is an unusual pet, and he attracts women." said Matt. "I saw him in Petland in the Galleria, and my parents, after much debate, bought him for me." Matt said.

Most Iguanas live to be about sixteen years old and need little care to survive. "He is easy to take care of, you just have to feed and give him water." said Matt. Iguanas do, however, cause a few problems. "Everywhere I take him I get many questions about him, and sometimes he bites people." said Matt.

Every nine weeks students either look forward to or regret getting their report card. "Generally my first impression of it is 'Oh no!' because it is usually bad. I see 'grounded' coming soon," said junior Rachel Jones.

"The first thing I look at and means the most is my average. That's what will count the most in the end," said junior Elizabeth Horn.

"Although my parents think they can change my grades by punishing me, I know what I'm capable of achieving, and punish myself if it is not there. I am the only one who can change that," said junior Adelia Crooks.

You are home alone. You are starving. There is no food in the house and you don't have the car. What do you do? Freshman Kelly Laudenheimer said she would "Make a run for the border!" and walk to Taco Bell.

"You go outside and look for a creature that could be halfway edible and maybe decent tasting. You capture and kill this creature and cook it, then eat it." said Sophomore Chris Susilovich.

Sophomore Sheneeta Williams said "I run around the house scraping up every penny I see and call Pizza Hut." For many students the phone number to the local pizza place was a survival technique.

"I'm willing to do almost anything for a higher grade," said Freshman Chassidy Heard. Freshman Sarah Lammons agreed. She said, "I'm willing to do extra work for a reasonable amount of extra points."

Not all teachers believe in offering extra assignments. Mrs. Dodd said, "I believe in bonus points for outstanding achievement on assignments but not extra credit work."

Freshman Chassidy Heard said, "I feel that offering extra credit is good because it gives students who try hard a chance to get better grades than they have been making."

From season to season students wear the latest trend — comfort. Freshman, Allison Lackey said, "I don't care what other people think, I just wear what is comfortable to me."

Junior, Anna Mazziotti said, "I'm really glad we got to wear shorts this year, I felt more relaxed walking around school all day."

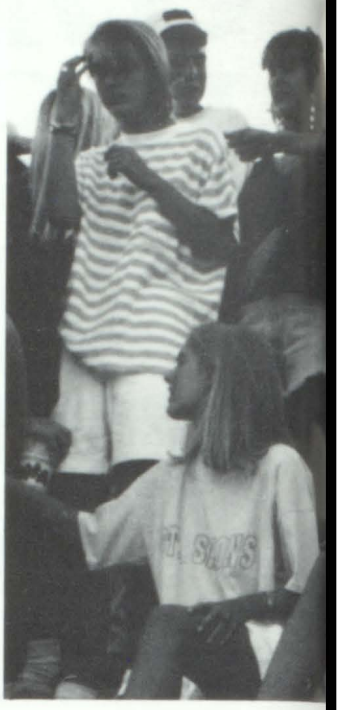

Many students had their own style of dress though. "I dress the way I live, rugged and mean," said junior, Trey Morris.

"I like wearing blue jeans once or twice before they are washed, because they are broken-in that way," said junior, Corey Brown.

Bach's Tocca and Fuge in D minor is one of my favorite songs,'' said sophomore Charlie Holubek. On one station one could find Axl Rose from Guns 'N Roses sing "Don't Cry", yet two stations down one could find Garth Brooks sing "Shameless".

From Alternative music (New Wave/Post Modern) to Rap, our minds were constantly filled with lyrics. Some were positive and some were negative, but most, if not all affected teenagers. Many teens found music to be something they could relate to. "I listen to all kinds of music, it always changes because I listen to the music that fits my mood," said senior Stacy Miller.

GEORGE-

Your four years have finally passed by and I am thankful that I was able to spend two of those years with you. When I look back on our relationship, I realize how much both of us have changed. But at least we changed together. I understand that situations may have changed by the time you read this, but the feeling will never change and you know that. I hope that you keep following your heart and never lose sight of your dreams. I hope that I am always here to listen to all of your "little known facts," but if not, I wish you the best of luck. I will love you forever.

Your Worm, MAKAYLA

I thought that carrying eggs around would be easy, but when I actually got them, it wasn't, they were always getting in my way and slowing me down," said junior Regina Foley. Psychology students were required to carry eggs around with them for five days without letting them out of their sight. Senior Stacey Avant said, "They were easy to break, I broke two of them accidently."

This assignment taught students the responsibility of having real children. "The worst part about carrying the eggs was when people made fun of me, but I did enjoy the positive attention I got," said junior Carol Holder. Overall the students had fun and learned a lesson at the same time.

This year students were given the opportunity to vote for their favorite teacher. Each student was given a feather to give to their favorite teacher and the one with the most feathers at the end of the day ended up the winner.

"It was an honor to be chosen as Byrd's favorite teacher," said Mr. Chuck Edwards.

Mr. Melvin Landry and Mr. Al Graham were the runners up.

"My favorite teacher is Ms. Patterson because even though she's hard on us we learn a lot and we get to do many fun things in her class," said sophomore Leslie Parker.

This year's favorite teacher, band director Mr. Chuck Edwards, prepares the band for their Christmas concert.

Pythons? Who?

C. E. Byrd High School

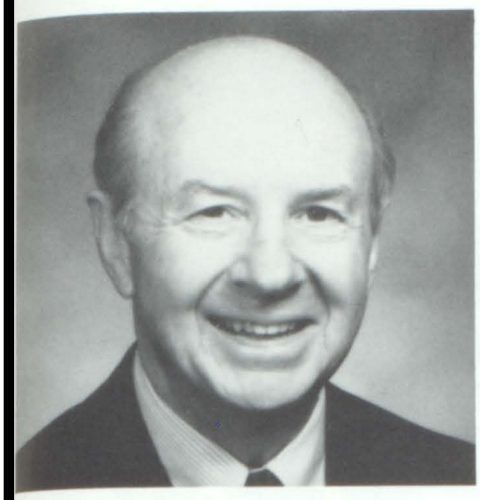

In 1986 Dr. B. L. Shaw, principal of Byrd High School, and Mr. Irving Selber (Byrd 1932) met and discussed the success which the Byrd Alumni Band had achieved. They arrived at an idea that led to a reunion of the graduating classes, beginning with 1926. They contacted Mrs. J. Blocker (Minnett) Thornton III, then President of the Byrd PTA. She accepted the chairmanship of the Ultimate Reunion held in June 1987. (Dr. Shaw retired at the end of 1986 and Miss R. Lynne Fitzgerald was named principal of the school) Mrs. Thornton chose Mimi (Wile) Hussey, Virginia (Kilpatrick) Shehee, John D. Caruthers, and Irving Selber to serve as associate chairman to handle the finances. She asked Charles A. Ravenna, Jr. (Byrd 1928) former assistant principal, to serve as Executive Director.

During the organization process, Brad Whiteside made the recommendation to the group that a Hall of Fame be selected, on an annual basis, with the first group of inductees to be installed at the luncheon for the Ultimate Reunion in 1987.

To date, there have been four groups of inductees whose pictures appear on the walls of the front hall at Byrd High School.

Junior John Keating studies for his midrerm exa

Panic fills your whole body. Suddenly you can't remember a thing you've learned during the past semester. Why this sudden feeling of panic? One simple word, MIDTERMS! Most students preferred to cram the night before for a test.

"I usually just study the night before for a test," said sophomore Amy Meacham.

"For a major test I usually begin to study at least two nights before the test so I will have time to learn everything," said sophomore Kelley Shell.

Have you ever built a car or a catapult before? For Mrs. Basham's physics class, these are just a couple of things they built. Students learn to put to use what they are taught from the book. Senior Mary Ann Mitchell said, "it's a fun way to apply physics by designing and constructing our own practical devices, such as a catapult. Some students say that the experiments will benefit them later in their careers. Senior Jenny Townes said, "By practically applying the concepts we learn; we better understand how physics is used in the real world, like in an engineering career."

Seniors Lennie Byrd and Tylor Wilson look intently as they test their catapult in Mrs. Bashams Physics lab.

Way Overdue

As the door closes on another year of accomplishments, new opportunities have become available. A new governor, the lottery, and the Sex Respect Controversy entered our state while Byrd introduced a new dress code, a superior athletic department, and a new atmosphere for learning. There are so many possibilities for success in our midst. Byrd is on the way to the top! By taking advantage of every learning experience possible we can only better ourselves. Material things can always be taken away but an education is forever. It's Way Overdue for us as a generation to realize that. In today's society you cannot go far without an education. We are the future of Shreveport, of Louisiana, and of our country. Now that concept is WAY OVERDUE!

Juniors Trey Morris and Brad Fullerton challenge their minds in Mr. Meekins' Chemistry lab.

Coach Carter gives some last minute advice to the defensive linemen during the Shreve game.

Tracey Acton looks on in amazement at Tracy Mitchell's first nine weeks report card.

At the Homecoming Pep Rally against Shreve, some seniors show their spirit in full force by wearing their camoflauge.

The cheerleaders perform a victory pyramid for the pep rally for the game against the Parkway Panthers.

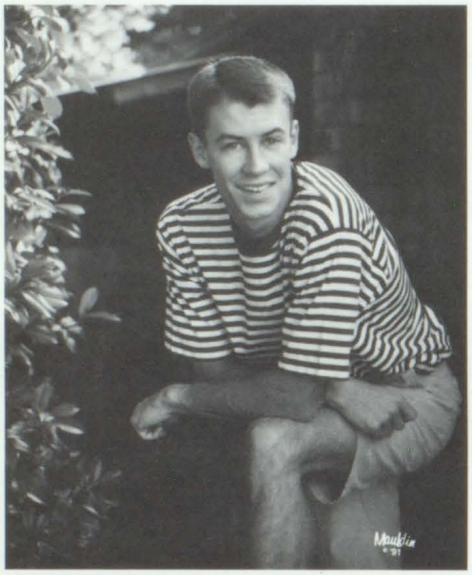

Way Over Done

This yearbook all began with a small idea and grew into a complete and successful concept. It is Way Overdue for us to work toward our goals and succeed. It's time for credit to be given to those who deserve it and are often overlooked.

We would like to thank all of this years staff members for all of your hard work. As a staff member your efforts sometimes were overlooked, but as you can see it all came together. We have enjoyed working with each and every one of you.

We would like to say thank you to our sponsors, Ms. Patterson and Ms. Milligan, because without them this book would have never made it.

We will always remember the wate war, all of the pizza parties, the late deadlines, and the Chia Pet! It is probably safe to say that this book in itself is Way Overdue and it could never have been completed without each and every one of you!

Did You Know?

There were 680 copies of the 78th edition of the Gusher printed this year at Josten's Publishing Company in Topeka, Kansas. The yearbook had a cordova grain, royal purple cover with the school crest using a gold foil design. The end sheet was designed by Jan Reeves and Stacy Wibben. The paper was 80 pound glossy enamel with 324 pages.

The opening, academic section, and division pages were designed by Melissa Wiegel. The title page, student life, and senior favorites spread were designed by Stacy Wibben. Senior spreads were designed by Kim Crosby. The rest of the class sections were designed by Kylie Reno. Jan Reeves designed the organization spreads and Trey Bergeret designed the sports section. Amanda SchutzenHofer designed the Ads section and Genna Adams and Julie Anderson designed the index.

The inplant consultant was Cindy Owen. The Josten's representative was David Baker. The yearbook would not have been possible without: sponsors Paige Patterson and Christine Milligan.
